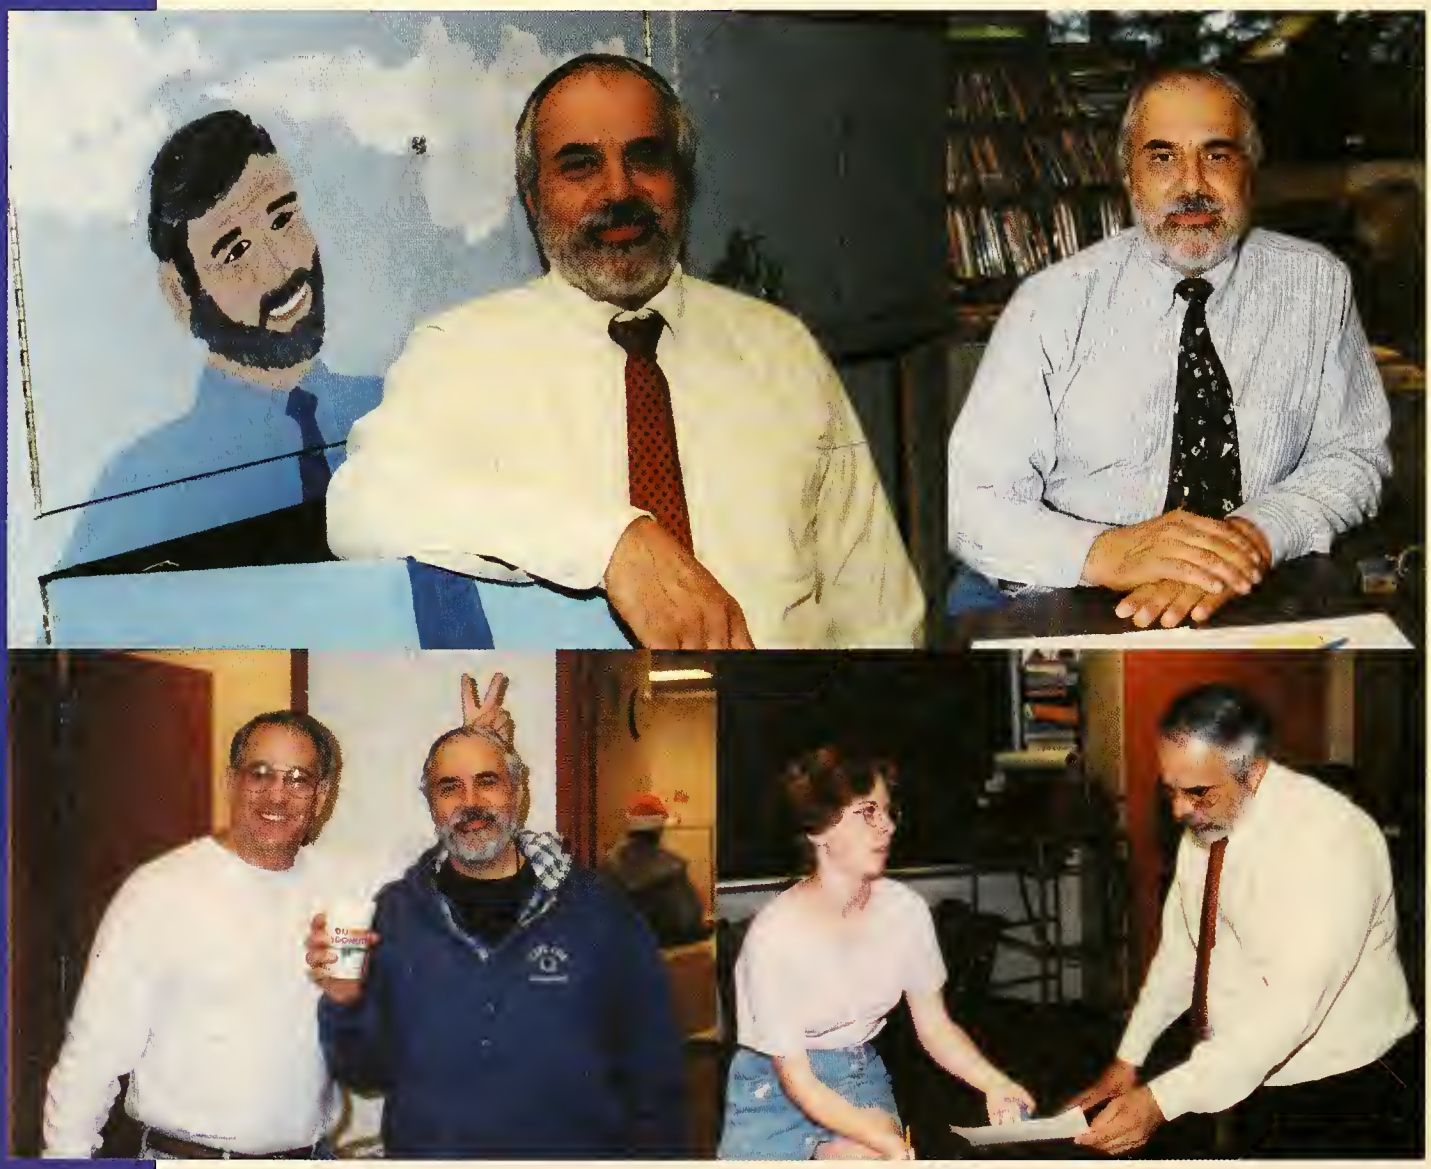
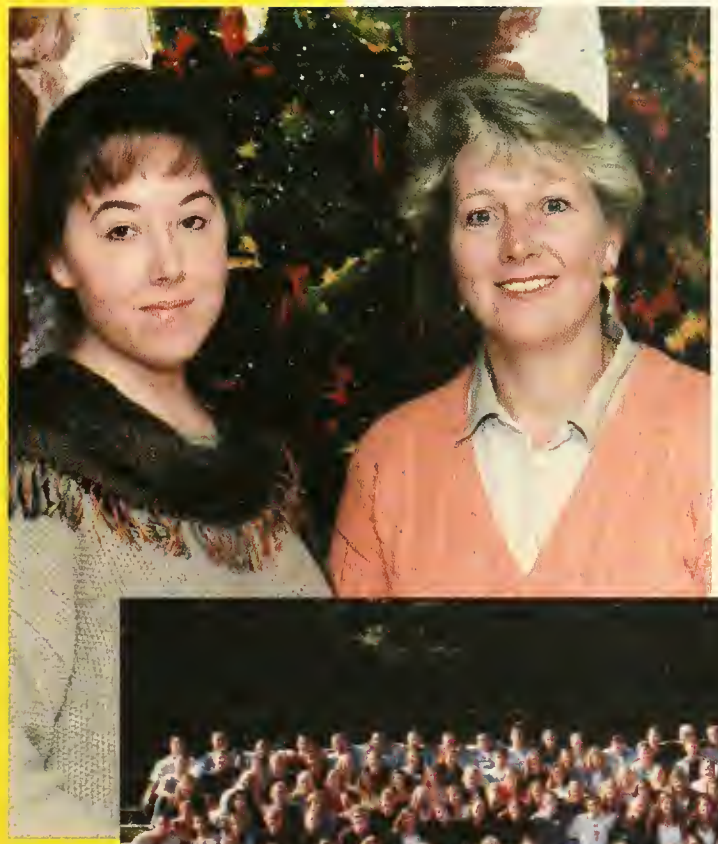
Thank You Mr. Paone!



The Staff of the 2000 Torch would like to dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Nick Paone. For the past nineteen years Mr. Paone has been the driving force behind the Torch. His dedication and service has been appreciated and valued by both students and faculty. Although the Torch will continue to be produced without Mr. Paone, it will never be quite the same. Thank you Mr. Paone, for all that you have done to provide the students of East Bridgewater with the memories of their high school years. We hope that you will always have good memories of making the yearbook happen.



The class of 2000 would like to formally thank the both of you for the hard work and dedication you have provided for our benefit. The times you spent extra hours after school and the times you spent helping the class when we needed it the most are greatly appreciated. Through all the Homecoming floats, through all the car washes, and through all the dances, you have been there when you were needed most, and the class of 2000 would like to thank you for that. Thanks for all the support, preparation, and calculations you put towards the benefit of our class. We wish you all the best in the future, and it was a pleasure to work with the both of you through the ups and downs of these four years. Thank you!!!!!

Dreaming of You

The East Bridgewater High School
Class of
Two Thousand
cordially invites you to attend the Junior Prom
on Friday, the fourteenth of May nineteen hundred and ninety-nine at six o'clock
Taunton Holiday Inn
Taunton, Massachusetts

Nick Inglis, a true romantic?

Erin Folloni couldn't decide if she should wear a dress or a tux... so she wore both.

Prom Court: Shannon Silba, Monique Jones, Lauren Ferbert, Queen Amy McCormick, King Albie Fratalia, Matt LaFratta, Dave Capuzzo, Tony Lombardo

Hail Queen Amy, Hail King Albie.

Aww... we know you guys are cute, but buff too? Come on now, stop dreaming.

Jessica, Katelyn, Erin and Lori were all dreaming of the wild, wild, west.

Cheryl, Tiffany, Shannon and Jen show off their gorgeous dresses as one big smiling group.

Mark, Kelly and Shanel decided to bust out with their cool moves on the dance floor.

Everyone came together for a night of dreams.

Group hug! Melissa, Erin, Kathy, Angela, you girls look great.

Aren't they the cutest couples?

Lisa Samia and her beau Ryan, what a dreamy picture.

Scooter, Erin and Sarah Look like they are ready to dance the night away.

Are these guys the guests or the bouncers?

Sleep Tight Sweetheart, Goodnight.

When questioned about their sleeping habits, the students of EBHS had this to say...

73% of all EBHS students admit to falling asleep in class.

The Most popular subjects to snooze during are Science and Math classes.

What caused students to wake from the sleep of the living dead?
Here are some of the best responses; the names have been withheld to protect the innocent.

"I fell out of my chair and hit my head on the desk next to me."

"I was having a dream where I was falling and as I was about to hit the ground I woke up shaking the desk to stop my fall. Mr. Illsley interrupted class to see if I was alright."

"That crazy Mrs. Crowell sprayed me with her stupid water bottle."

"One time I fell asleep in Mr. Siddiqui's class, and when I woke up I was all alone. Everyone must have gone to lunch."

"I began to drown in a puddle of my own drool."

"I was out like a light in English class, and I could just barely hear Mr. Cronin talking about averages. I heard him call out my name and in a stupor I yelled out 'I like math.'"

"Mr. Santos whacked me with a ruler. It hurt."

Through These Doors Walk the World's Most Tired Students...

While most AP Calculus students stare at the board with a puzzled look, Peter decided it was better to catch up on his sleep.

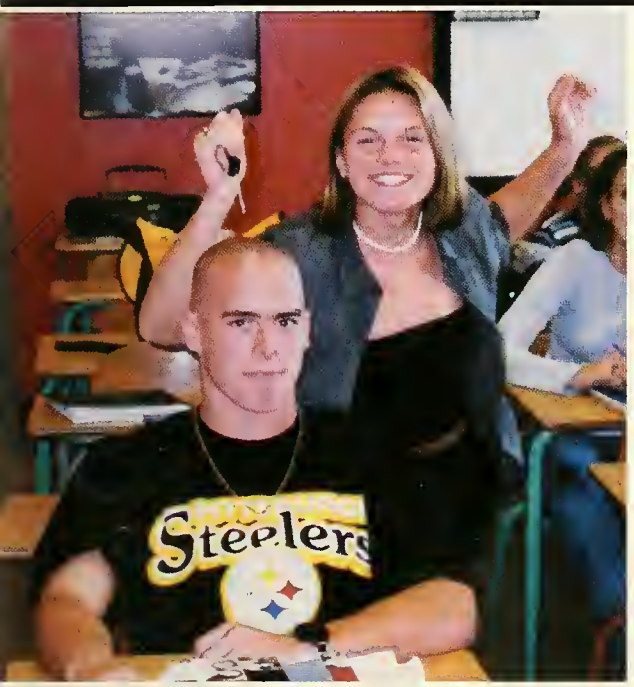
Sarah tried mental absorption; sleep on the book and the answers will come.

Amy decided to dream of a far, far better place.

Sshh... we won't wake Kristina if you don't.

Mike is the only one on this page who should be sleeping.

Yet, Through These Doors Walk the Most Unique Students.



Lyndsay gave a brief audition with Scott for a role in "Clue." She didn't get the part.

Mark and Amanda Chia Pets!

If unique is what you want to call it?

Charlie's Angels they're not!

This picture speaks for itself!

"Join us. Together we can rule the galaxy!"

Cute little devil isn't he? Marik and Angela prepare their game faces for the ultimate battle of the sexes.

Lizette was shocked to see Mr. Illsley win the limbo contest.

A look at what EBHS students do with their spare time.

Jill loves to look cute.

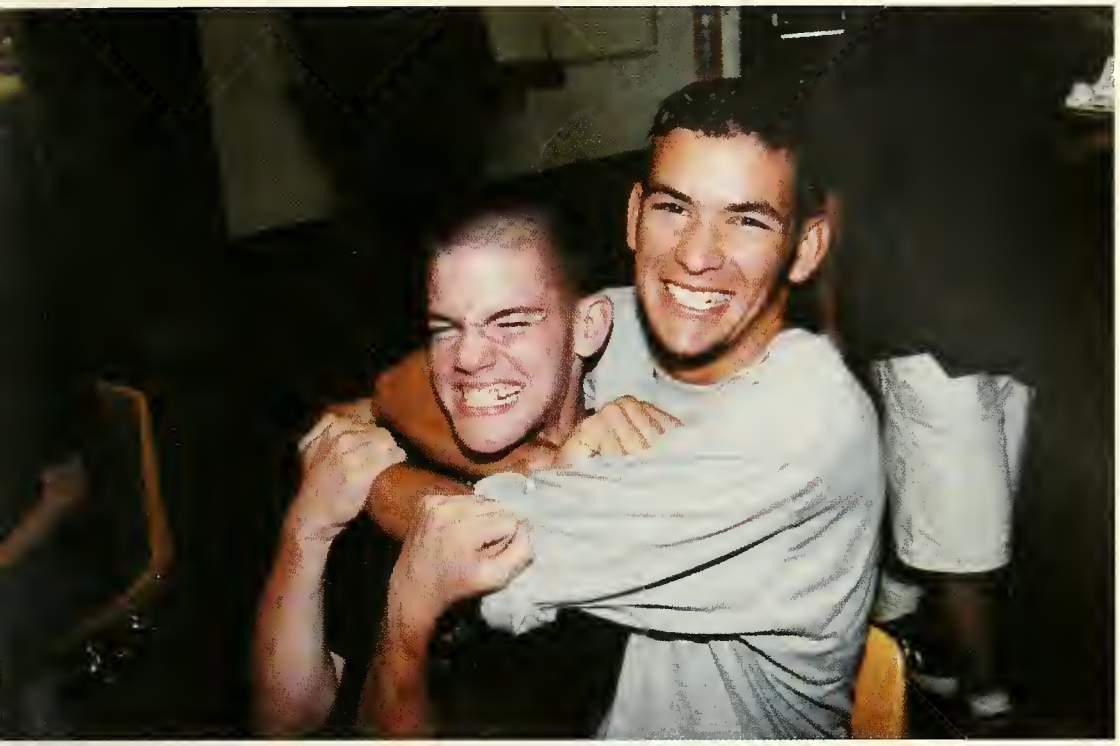
Bill and Melissa didn't mind when the camera interrupted their between class activity. Sorry Guys!

Come on Steve, Bill, smile!

Come on guys, give me some tips! How do I become a power hitter?

J.P. in the girls locker room? That doesn't surprise us. Maybe he's looking for some beauty tips.

Don't worry Amy, we'll keep this our little secret!



Fon: "I was here first."
Phil: "No, I called this chair!"

Cafeteria romance. Isn't it enough to make you lose your lunch?

I don't care if they are made of squirrels, I still like chicken patties.

Okay David, it's chew, chew, swallow, swallow, then laugh!

Mmm, Mmm GOOD.

Why does Pork taste so good? The cafeteria ladies know the answer to this question as well as the others that we asked the student body. Here are the results.

54.25% of all EBHS students purchase school lunch on a regular basis.

The meals that you liked the most were nuggets, breadsticks, spaghetti and pizza. Many people responded "Airheads," but after checking with Ms. Kraemer we found out airheads are not salubrious.

The most responded to question was, "What are the chicken patties really made of?"

"Grade D (but edible) meat."

"Airheads."

"Ignorance is bliss."

"Rubber."

"A Mr. Abate chemistry experiment gone terribly wrong."

"Refried Beans."

"Ground up bugs."

"Chicken."

"An elite group of military squirrels bred not only as spies for the US government but also as tasty treats on a bun for the youth of our nation."

THE SENIOR TRIP... to the Common.

Winter Wonderland

Semi Formal February 12, 2000

Presented By the Classes of

2000 & 2002

With the growing disappointment of not having any snow days to date , the Seniors and Sophomores agreed that this years theme should provide the school with its first storm of the year. "Winter Wonderland" was a chance for everyone to let loose and show just how GQ and YM they could be. Weeks of preparation culminated in a spectacular event, making this year's semiformal the best ever. With a beautifully decorated cafeteria and an excellent dj, the semiformal turned out to be a frozen tundra. The excitement to get dressed up and to boogie down was overwhelming, and the crowd was more stylish than any ever seen in the cafeteria before (except maybe the lunch ladies). The semiformal was an unforgettable event that was a good time for everyone who attended.

-Mr. Santos

In these following pages let's take a look at the people who help to make East Bridgewater High School the place that it is. Our faculty is a group of people who do what they can to make East Bridgewater High School the best it can be. Whether it be Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Miller celebrating another fine production of the drama club or Ms. Liva, Ms. Dennison, Ms. Carlson, Ms. Cragin and Mrs. O'Brien chaperoning the Junior Prom; these people work hard to help the students to enjoy their years at EBHS.

This past year we have had some new additions and we have also said good-bye to a few friends. Ms. Costa and Mr. O'Rourke have joined us in the mathematics and science departments respectively. Ms. Cragin has made the move from Assistant Principal to the Director of Curriculum, Instruction and Professional Development Coordinator for grades K-12. Mrs. Frost and Mr. Kjellerstedt have found out that you can get too much of a good thing. They both decided that this past school year would be their last. To each of them we hope that they will find continued satisfaction as they settle into their new positions.

So "Let's get started folks." Here is our faculty.

Dr. Judith Riordan
Superintendant of Schools

Overlooking a traditional New England town common at the dawn of the millennium, East Bridgewater High School represents the values of a small town and the promise of a new world. The EBHS tradition is preserved by caring students and teachers working together to achieve excellence in academics, arts, and athletics. This community of students and educators is dedicated to the development of individual potential and personal character.

The growth, achievements, and potential of the Class of 2000 continue the Viking legacy. You have nurtured your dreams with perseverance and energy. As individuals you have grown, and by sharing your gifts with others you have enriched the culture of East Bridgewater High School. Whatever the future brings, the lessons and memories you have acquired here will endure in the choices you make and the people you become. As you pursue your goals in life you carry the spirit of EBHS — a spirit of effort, compassion, enthusiasm, and pride.

The Class of 2000 will move on to new challenges and achievements, but you will always be a part of East Bridgewater High School, just as East Bridgewater High School will always be a part of you. You leave with our love and our hopes that you will cherish your roots as you soar to a bright future of success and happiness.

"For you I wish these two things,
To give you roots, to give you wings."

your Life

"Student life? What student has a life?"
-Anonymous

Student life is something that affects each and every one of us, therefore this is our section. It's the music we listen to, where we dedicate our time, the way we dress and the people we help. It's the everyday trivial stuff that makes up our lives. We begin by taking a look back at the summer. Many of us just tossed on our sunglasses and hit the road like Mike Kenney, Laura DeSerpa, Michelle Cohen and Kerrin Augustyniak. On our way we hit sites like Canobie Lake Park. Then we move on to the school year, starting with Homecoming and Halloween. Sarah Rodricks caught the idea with her gypsy costume at the Key Club Halloween Party. From there we put on our warm mittens to celebrate the holidays at Christmas on the common. Holly Runnals had the idea and the spatula; the sandwiches weren't that bad and were for a good cause, the sophomores.

Then we really take a look at our lives. Interviews with the student body showed our views on a variety of subjects. It seems that "we all work for the money" and fashion is a hot topic. Like Chris Richard, we all have our own style. Caitlin Colombo personifies community service as she helps the kindergartners. Seniors' true feelings were revealed at the Torch Awards, but don't worry Doug and Angela, you aren't that loud.

Finally, we end this section with some of the really important stuff, our memories and our accomplishments. Hopefully this section succeeds in capturing our thoughts, ideas, and lives.

The First and Quite Possibly the Last Torch Awards

On the eve of December 2, 1999 just hours after the blood drive, the Torch Staff brought something new to East Bridgewater High School. The first ever and quite possibly the last "Torch Awards" were held. In the tradition of the Academy Awards and the Golden Globes, the 32 different Senior Superlatives were presented. Fifty-one different seniors took home an award. Amy Smollett and Peter Egersheim won three Torch Awards each, including the Best All-Around Senior. Each award was given out by a presenter hand picked by the Torch Staff. The event was a great success. The audience was wonderful and really showed their support of each of the presenters. The crowd went wild over several presenters, most noticeable was Mr. Burkett's presentation for Best Eyes, Mr. Moore's presentation for Cutest and Mr. Illsley's cinematic debut in the clip, "Most Likely to be locked out by Mr. Illsley". Mr. Harper (wearing a tuxedo for the first time ever) and Mr. Condon came dressed in the Christmas spirit. They even brought in a machete to make sure that they would be able to open the envelope. This event was so big that Mr. Bill Smith even skipped out on Smackdown to join us. Over thirty different Faculty members were involved in presenting The Torch Awards along with four current underclassmen and two Alumni. Many of the teachers were there in person and for the unfortunate ones who couldn't join us, they presented their awards by videotape. From the first presentation by Mr. Post for Most Changed (and my, how Mr. Post has changed) to the last presentation by Mr. Siddiqui for Best All-Around, it was a wonderful evening for all those involved, and as for whether or not this was the last Torch Awards, only time will tell...

Look to the Past to Build a Stronger Future.

On the weekend of October 29th East Bridgewater High School hosted its annual homecoming festivities. And what better way to begin homecoming than the traditional rally, co-hosted by Ms. Carrara and Mr. Siddiqui. The band and colorguard performance illustrated why they are the five-time defending NESBA champions. Each of the Fall season sports teams were recognized, including the girls soccer team, which made the playoffs for the fourth straight year, and the Patriot League Field Hockey champions. AD Smith made a special appearance presenting the 1999 Boys Track Team with the Championship banner. The highlight of the rally came when Seniors Joe "Mankind" Daggett and Peter "The Rock" Egersheim demolished Josh Lagerval who portrayed a Randolph Blue Devil in their Smackdown imitation. The Homecoming dinner sponsored by the class of 2001 took place Friday evening. The dinner was well attended, serving over 200 people. That night the boys varsity soccer team hosted an exchange team from England. They played admirably and managed to tie the British team. The next day's events included the annual homecoming parade and football game. The parade was led by Dr. Riordan and the School Committee followed by the East Bridgewater High School Marching Band and the members of the Homecoming court who were dispersed among the floats of the underclassmen. The Class of 2001 won the trophy for the best float, with their depiction of the rainbow bridge of knowledge which spanned the chasm between past and future. The members of the homecoming

Happy

October 31st... what do you think of? Ghosts, goblins, and ghouls, fairies, princesses, and beauty queens. Every year, EBHS celebrates Halloween in a special way, with the Key Club sponsored Halloween party. Students all gather together for a night of fun, games, and goofy costumes. Elementary and middle school students come dressed to impress. Throughout the night, high school students led the younger kids through games like "Simon Says" and bobbing for apples. The night ended with a costume contest in which the most unique wins. But of course, in the spirit of giving, all the kids walked away with candy and excitement. The high schoolers were left to clean up the mess. Overall, the Halloween party was a great success; everyone, and we mean everyone, came dressed to impress. Some of the most unique costumes are pictured here. Check out Kelly, the princess, and Pam, the angel. This event makes Halloween a time that is never forgotten.

Holidays!

Christmas is the most wonderful time of the year, especially at EBHS. Each year before Christmas, the whole community traditionally gathers together to share in the Holiday spirit. All of the local organizations along with East Bridgewater High School clubs are given a table and contribute something. The Sophomore class sold grilled cheese sandwiches and hot turkey and veggie soup. The seniors offered everyone's favorite coffee, Dunkin' Donuts, in addition to selling EBHS key chains. The key club sold sweatshirts and T-shirts. The sports parents and the music parents all lent a helping hand. The day began with a parade that started at the Foxboro building and ended at the High School parking lot. Participating in this stream of colors that washed across EB were floats of all shapes and sizes, as well as our own band and color guard. Overall the day was a blast, although it was quite cold. Everyone walked away with the Christmas spirit.

This year the Torch Staff decided to dedicate a spread, better know as two pages, to all of the working students at EBHS. About 53.86% of the students at EBHS have jobs. The majority of the workers are juniors and seniors, but there are a few sophomores and even some freshmen. When the students were asked why they worked, many said money was a large factor. According to Pub 106's best worker, Sarah Nolan, "Um, money is definitely a factor." Many of them seemed to agree, although Jay Prusak told us that he works at Tedeschi's, for the money, but "they don't give me any."

The Most Popular Jobs

1. Supermarkets
2. Fast Food a.k.a. Dunkin' Donuts
3. Pumpin' gas at Skip's

53.86% of all EBHS students work

So what does everyone need the money for? Or need we ask such a question? Obviously everyone needs the money "for the things you do" says Cheryl Peloso, who spends her time at Wendy's. Those things we do seem to consist of paying for our cars. In fact, many of us work mainly to keep and maintain our cars, and the gas they burn up constantly. But there are some other reason we work. Our favorite ice cream scooper at Peaceful Meadows, Leigh-Ann Brosihan, put it best when she explained "the money's good, but the people are fun." In fact, many of the student workers at EBHS like to work because they enjoy the people they work with.

So what else is there to say about working, well, what do we receive from working besides the money? Everyone seemed to have lots of answers for this. Sharrel Paul elaborated on this idea by saying that "work teaches us good things for the future." These things include responsibility, time management, and people skills.

So with all these great things about work why don't we all give it a shot? Well, as some of the students pointed out, work can often take away from other parts of our lives. If we are athletes, working can often interfere with practices and games. It can force us to decide between our school work and social lives. But there's another lesson that comes with work. Time management is probably the best benefit from working. We learn to set our priorities and pick the important things in our lives.

Maybe it was put best by one our favorite teachers, Mr. Burkett, when he explained, "Work is a good thing; it teaches responsibility outside the classroom and reinforces what you learn in school. Yet, some students take on too much work in order to pay for the less important things such as fancy cars and status. Try not to pass up the things that will be over soon, because work will always be there."

It's a "Freedom Thing"

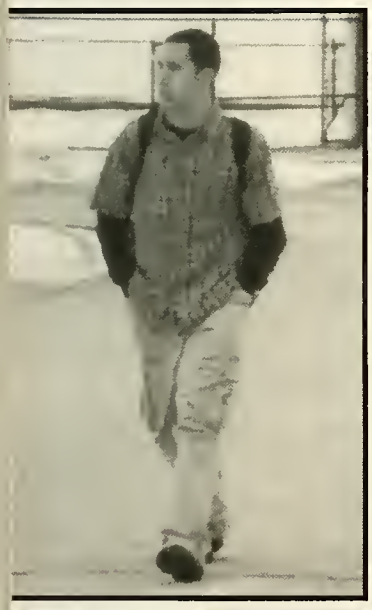
A stream of cars rushes into the back parking lot at precisely 7:25. Just 20 minutes earlier, the lot looked like a ghost town, as you can see by the time line. If you observe the back parking lot you can get a general idea of how the students of EBHS feel about driving. It's a "freedom" thing. Senior Nicole Gill explained how driving changed her life in that, "I can go places when I want; I can go wherever I want." Then again, Nicole also said that driving is expensive and she hates paying for gas. In addition to the high cost of driving, we all seem to get disturbed by the other drivers on the road. Another Senior, Rob "FON" Chamberlain, states "dumb people bother me." Many of us seem to get agitated by the lack of courtesy on the roads.

So do the positives outweigh the negatives? Here at EB, they sure do. Tiffany Overstreet says, "Driving is fun, new and great plus it lets you leave your house and EB!" Many of us feel that driving has changed our lives. It gives us a chance to see different places, meet new people, and try new things. Even though it may cost us our paychecks or frazzle our nerves, driving provides the ultimate freedom. So next time you get in the car, think of all of those people who cannot drive and cherish every morning you get to pull into the back parking lot.

The Helping Hands of EBHS

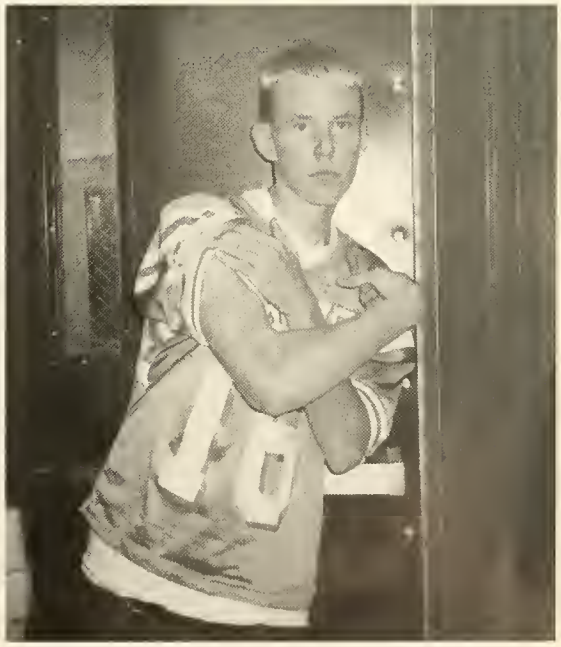
All over EBHS, students are Reaching Out to thecommunity, spending time with people, and trying to explain things they don't know. Community Service is integrated into many EB students' lives. Through a new program called Reach Out, many students are able to put extra school time to use. Mrs. Barnes leads the new program, which ranges from helping out at the Middle and Central Schools to visiting nursing homes, to building things in shop for charity. Sophomore Jen Whitney visits hospitals through the Reach Out program, and Sophomore Chris Hall teaches CCD to little kids and volunteers through a program called Brothers' Keeper. Chris and Jen agree that, "Teaching and working with kids makes me feel good about myself." Through the National Honor Society and Future Nurses, Senior Amy McCormack visits nursing homes and soup kitchens. Community Service has given Amy an outlet to do what she tells us she enjoys. Although at first glance you may not notice these random acts of kindness, if you dig a little deeper, you'll see just how much the students at East Bridgewater High School care.



PERSONAL

AT EBHS

At EBHS there doesn't seem to be any single dominant style. Rather, all of the students seem to "dress however we want" says Senior, Angela Lawson. Another Senior, Doug Colburn, seemed to agree when he explained, "I wear what I want; I don't need to impress anybody." Our taste in clothes does not stop at our closets however. In fact, it carries over to our taste in music. Amy McCormack defined her taste in music and fashion as a "wide variety. My style is just whatever." It's obvious that most of us at EBHS are open to many different styles, genres, and ideas, but Junior Kristin Clark contests that this mind set does not include everyone. She said that there are some of us who "just want to be in a certain group and will change the way they dress or the music they listen to just to make it in." Although this doesn't apply to everyone, it's hard to say that there are not some divisions in style here at EBHS. Sophomore, Chris Hall, pointed out that, "There are definitely a lot of cliques. There are those who dress grungy, and there's the preppy people, and of course the rappers. A lot of people try to be like other people." Senior Jay Prusak agreed and explained that, "All the Homey G's dress like Homey G's, and the skaters wear the grungy clothes." So where does this conflict of ideas come from? Some of us feel that EBHS is open and not limited to one genre, while others believe that everyone tries to belong to a certain clique. Well, it's a little bit of both. Maybe another factor is grade-level. It has been noticed that while the Seniors are all laid back, and dressing for comfort, the Freshman are all trying to fit in with just the right style. This concept was explained by Lyndsay Signori in that, "It goes by grade- when you're a Senior, you're ready to wear whatever, but if you're a Freshman, you have the pressure to dress up." No matter what the story is, Leigh-Ann Brosnihan, a.k.a. Bottom Line, was right when she said, "There's a definite correlation between fashion and music; they need each other to survive." Even with that said, the Freshmen continue to dress up and the Seniors dress down because no matter what the genre or taste, every individual at EBHS has his or her own personal style and that is what makes our school great.



JUNIOR MISS 2000

If you were to drive by the town hall on any Sunday night from September to November, you would be surprised to see large numbers of cars in the parking lot. Inside the town hall, you would find 20 girls dancing, speaking, and working hard for one of the best experiences of their lives. On November 14, all of these girls, six of which were from East Bridgewater High School, got on the stage to strut their stuff.

Junior Miss is a tradition in which the whole nation participates. The six girls from EBHS, Adrianne Grabau, Jamie Alfieri, Sue Poirier, Amy Smollett, Lauren Ferbert, and Andria Blackman all competed for the title of Capeway Junior Miss. The competition included onstage and offstage components. The offstage included an interview and academic judgement. On stage, the girls performed fitness routines, displayed talents, and presented themselves verbally and formally. The talent routines included dancing, karate patterns, artwork displays and pieces on the piano.

Adrianne Grabau earned First Runner Up in the competition, and Andria Blackman won the Diane Carr Award. Beyond the tangible awards and gifts, the girls also became friends with almost 20 other girls and shared an amazing experience, memories of which they will carry with them for the rest of their lives.

Continuing A Tradition The French Wedding

Mme Barbara Gillespie's class of 2000 French III students participated in the annual mock French wedding after spending a month of studying the French society and wedding customs. Each student played a role in the ceremony, with each role picked by a lottery held in class. The roles ranged from bride and groom to a mayor, priest, readers, and photographer. Meaghan Ortenzi and Justin Hastings were the bride and groom, and they each wrote impressive vows completely in French. The two exchanged their vows in front of students, faculty, and parents who were exclusively invited. Nicole Gill was in charge of planning the wedding, helping to decorate the library, changing it from a world of books into a snowy winter wonderland, matching the theme of "Noel Blanc." After the actual marriage was completed, a reception followed, featuring a beautifully constructed "une piece montee," or a mountain of creme filled pastries covered by a sugary glaze, created by the renowned chef Andrea Mallett. Many painstaking hours went into the event in the form of invitations, decorations, filming and editing, costumes, and scripts. On behalf of the '98 French III class, the editors of the Torch would like to thank Mme Gillespie for her time, effort, and love she so willingly donated to this fun, educational, and outstanding celebration.

Angry fans charge the field, and the two opposing towns brawl for bragging rights. A familiar headline for high school sports in the last year, just luckily not here at East Bridgewater High School. High school athletics has always been a strong tradition at our high school and we've actually been lucky enough to have a few good teams over the past four years. It's nice to think that sports aren't about winning or losing, but it always feels better to be the team jumping up and down than the team hanging their heads. To feel the excitement of victory and the sting of defeat are all part of the game. Pride is a large part of sports, and everyone is proud to be a Viking.

Long standing winning teams in our town have been football, baseball, and basketball. There hasn't been much variety, but as of late many teams have started to experience success. With the addition of both a golf team and hockey team in the last few years, there are more choices than ever. Whether shooting a ball in a little hoop is your game or smashing a tennis ball at eighty miles an hour is for you, we do it here at East Bridgewater and we do it with pride. And even if you're not the one to participate in sports, we can all remember getting psyched up to watch a big game and cheer on our friends.

Over the past few years, we had some quite successful teams and then some teams in "transition." There is a strong sense of school spirit running through us all and school athletics are a great way to demonstrate our ability and pride.

Boys Cross Country

The Boy's cross-country team had its best season ever, finishing first in the Patriot League and 12th overall in the All-State meet. They started the season off in a very strong way, going undefeated in their first six meets. This successful team also had an unusual make-up; the top seven runners were all underclassmen, with one Senior exception. The team consisted of Senior, Dave Nilson, junior, Phil Perry, sophomores, Thomas Smith, Shawn White, Aaron Bush, Chester Miller, freshmen, Jeremy McCabe, Kenny Rettman, Kevin McCabe and Dennis Sheppard. The boys were undefeated at home; won the prestigious South Shore Principals meet, and finished fourth overall in the Class D meet. With these team honors came many individual honors. Dennis Sheppard was named to the Enterprise All-Scholastic Team and Shawn White received honorable mention. East Bridgewater had three team members named to the Patriot League All-League team, Shawn White, Thomas Smith and Dennis Sheppard. The team has a great deal to be proud of this past season; coached by Mr. McCabe and Mr. Crean the team was a close knit group that enjoyed each other as much as they did their sport. The next several years look to be just as promising for the Viking runners considering that the team will be returning the majority of its team for the next two seasons.

Girl's Cross Country

"Just shut up and run already!"

The Girls Cross Country Team had an awesome 1999 Season. Captains Kelly Cobb and Sarah Rodricks, and teammates Katie Belmore, Pamela D'Angelo, Holly Runnals, Lara Batti and Allison Cobb proved that running hundreds of miles, having a new coach and being the smallest team at EBHS, wasn't all that bad. Miles were made into nothing with the strong and friendly spirit that kept the team together. Also helping make the miles easily conquerable was their new coach, Mr. McCabe, accompanied by Mr. Crean, who returned from the 1998 season. They brought their sense of humor to the team and the ability of the girls to persuade them to shorten the practices made them easy to welcome. The size of the team made the girls work harder to pull through and win a meet and made it easier for the team to grow into fast and great friends. The girls had a record of 5-5 for the season, but those numbers cannot accurately reflect the personal and team accomplishments that were achieved. The most memorable meet came when East Bridgewater swept the first five places at their last home meet against Randolph. Kelly Cobb won first place honors. They improved the next Saturday where the team finished 16th out of 42 teams that competed from all over the Boston area. The girls and the coaches were pleased by this wonderful comeback and agreed that it helped to make a great ending for a good season.

The East Bridgewater High School Girls Field Hockey team finished their season with an outstanding record of 9-5-3. Not only was this record good enough for a playoff birth, but it secured the girls their first Patriot League title ever. After getting off to a rocky start (1-3-1) the girls really pulled together to defeat Norwell 3-0 and then they went on to win 10 of their next 12 regular season games. It was an outstanding season, led by Captains Erin Folloni, Caitlin Colombo and Kerri Zimmerman. Seniors Lisa Samia, Melissa Garabedian, Sara Nolan, Amy McCormack, Erin Maloney and Erin Young also played major roles in the team's strong season. The offense, led by Junior Maura Gardner's league leading 14 goals, was usually able to provide the Vikings with a comfortable lead, and for the games they didn't, the defense anchored by Erin Folloni and her nine shutouts made sure that every game was close.

Individual honors were prevalent during this record setting season. Lisa Samia, Kerri Zimmerman, Erin Folloni, Maura Gardner and Karissa Carey were all selected to the All-Star Team. Both Kerri and Maura were also selected to the All-Scholastic Team. Coach Lisa Roberts, who did an outstanding job, was named the Coach of the Year by the Boston Globe. The girls worked hard and although they were not able to advance as far as they would have liked to in the tournament, they were able to earn the Patriot League Banner that they were striving for all year long and they will be a team that East Bridgewater High School will not soon forget.

The East Bridgewater High School Boy's Soccer team completed another season, that started with a 6-0 win over West Bridgewater. Lead by captains Josh Lagerval, Kevin Dixon, Tom Hansbury, and Joe Frost the team ended the season with a 7-10-2 record. Other players that helped the team to have one of their better seasons were Mark Margarit , Ryan DeSousa, and Dan Joughin. Leading the league in scoring were juniors Joe Frost and Dan Joughin. They placed one and two in scoring respectively. Three players were chosen to represent the team in the Patriot League All-Star game, Tom Hansbury, Joe Frost , and Dan Joughin. All three players are juniors and returning for another year of kicks.

During the month of October the boys hosted an exchange team from Great Britain. The Brits lived with their EB counterparts andcompeted against several area teams. The Brits had an undefeated record here in America; their only blemish, a tie against their hosts, your East Bridgewater Vikings. During the 1999 season, the Soccer team not only represented their school and community, but also their country.

Each of the players will be able to look back and remember that they help contribute to East Bridgewater's best record in years. Helping them to be prepared for each game was a series of inspirational pre-game speeches made by Kevin Dixon , Josh Lagerval , Joe Frost, Tom Hansbury, and...Oh yeah Freshmen Greg Hill .

A Tradition of Excellence

The girls soccer team continued their tradition of excellence finishing off the '99 season with a winning record of 11-5-1. This season marked the fourth straight year of tournament play for the seniors on the team.

Eight starting seniors including captains Lauren Ferbert, Nicole Gill and Lyndsay Signori, led the team from start to finish. In addition to the seniors, major contributions were also made by all of the underclassmen on the team, including juniors, goalkeeper Erin Kenny and leading scorer Nicole Mauger. The unity of the team, in addition to the support of Coach Bill Mauger, served to make their successful season a true team effort.

Although the season began slowly, the girls picked up and came together to finish third overall in the Patriot League. Highlights of the season included the team's 2-0 defeat over Rockland in their final league match, qualification to the state tournament, mud wrestling at practice, weekly pasta fests and running miles upon miles with Lyndsay in the preseason.

Viking Pride

The 1999 East Bridgewater High School football season was a successful one for the hard hitting Vikings. Led by a talented and close knit senior class, the team started the season with a five game undefeated run, and later completed the season with an impressive 6-2-2 record. The team opened the year with a 19-6 victory over Catholic Memorial, and followed that up with perhaps their most exciting game, a 14-13 victory over Norwell. In a hard fought game the difference turned out to be one play during the waning seconds of the fourth quarter. With the Vikings leading by one, senior Kevin MacNeill blocked an attempted field goal on the last play of regulation to preserve the win. Later in the season, at the annual Homecoming football game, Junior Kevin McDermott displayed his extraordinary offensive skills by rushing for all three of the Vikings' touchdowns of the day. Overall, the football team finished second in the very competitive Patriot League. The Vikings were led by senior captains Matt Singleton, Michael Belmore, Scott Viscardi, and Bill Breheny as well as Coach St. George and Assistant Coaches John Lucier, Fred Cushing, Darren Burkett and Steve Fernandez. Playing in their final season were seniors Doug Colburn, Marik Fiero, Jake Gurney, Kevin MacNeill, Dave McAuley, Matt Monteiro, Steve Moore, and Jason Rock. The Vikings also boasted more All-League representatives than any other team in the Patriot League. Among these talented young men were Matt Singleton, Scott Viscardi, Mike Belmore, Doug Colburn and Kevin MacNeill. Congratulations to every single player that contributed to making the 1999 Viking football season not only successful, but memorable as well.

During the 1999 Season the football cheerleaders got off to a rough start. As a matter of fact, there was a time when no one was sure that there would be a season at all. For the entire month of September the team was without a coach and trying to hold practices on their own. Thanks to the dedication of A.D. Smith a new cheerleading coach was found, Kate Katristis. Coach Katristis really brought the team together and enabled the team to continue. Although the team was unexperienced at the beginning of the season they came a long way. The highlight of the cheerleading season came on October 29th when they hosted the annual Homecoming Pep Rally for the entire student body. Led by Captains, Senior Kathy Lynch and Junior Erin Mondeau the rally went smoothly and kicked off what was to be an enjoyable Homecoming weekend.

Boys Indoor Track:
We run while others sit by the

The boys track team was burning it up during the coldest time of the year. Every member of the team performed exceptionally this season. At the date of publication, the team had lost only one meet. This meet, versus Randolph, was critical, and the results were very close. Captain Marik Fiero explained, "It came down to the last relay, and any time you're in a race as momentous as that one is, it's always exciting." But the 48-38 meet against Randolph wasn't the only thrilling part of the season. So far, the team has qualified for the state tournament in over 13 events. Overall, the team finished the season second in the league, falling only to their toughest rival, Randolph. Captains of this year's team included Kevin Dixon, Scott Viscardi, Dave Nilson, Marik Fiero, and Doug Colburn. Kevin qualified for states in all of his events including the 600, 1000, 1 mile, and 2 mile. In addition, he was awarded the MVP of the Patriot League indoor track team. Key runners on the team, included Dixon as well as Ed Perry, TJ Smith, Dennis Sheppard, Shawn White, and all of the senior captains. During the season, there was an increased support from the underclassmen. Coach John Lucier stated, "I'm pleased with the effort of every kid on the team." Both coach Lucier and Crean were thrilled with their successful team and season.

Girls Indoor Track: and we stay away from dogs.

With six wins, one tie, and one loss, the Girls Indoor Track team has had an excellent season. The year's captains included Andrea Mallett, Kelly Cobb and Sarah Rodricks. Sarah remained undefeated in the shotput through the regular season with her best throw of 30 feet and 4 1/4 inches, while Andrea Mallett scored the highest number of total points for East Bridgewater. In addition to the intense effort of the captains, other key runners included Maura Gardner, Jill Smith, and Katie Belmore. Sophomore Rachel McManus commented, "The most exciting meet of the season was the Hingham meet." This competition was the Lady Vikings' only loss, but it was a tough fight until the end. The girls' single tie came from a strong duel with Scituate in which the girls put forth a superb effort. The final meet of the season, against Norwell, was a great victory for the girls. The team's perseverance throughout the season was shown in this last meet, as they won 45 1/2 to 40 1/2. Four girls from the team qualified for the Class D State meet, Andrea Mallett, Lyndsay Signori, Maura Gardner and Sarah Rodricks. Andrea finished 8th in the high jump and Sarah Rodricks finished 13th in the shot put. Three girls from East Bridgewater also represented the town at the Pentathalon: Seniors Andrea Mallet and Lyndsay Signori, and Freshman Jennifer Harlow. This Pentathlon consists of five events, the 55 hurdles, high jump, long jump, shot put and 800 meter. The coaches chose these three girls for their distinct ability in the high jump and hurdles. The Girl's Indoor Track coaches, Denise Carrara and assistant coach Darren Burkett, believe that the caption on the girl's t-shirts sums up the effort of the team this year. Walking around the school you're bound to come face to face with a track shirt now and then: "You say run, we say how far."

Best Season Yet

Girls are tournament bound

Boys, schmoys. If you were to ask any of the girls on the basketball team how they compared themselves to the boys, they would all respond with the same statement, "We're better." Led by captains Colleen Prout and Lisa Samia, the East Bridgewater High School Girls Basketball team had its best season ever this year. At the date of publication, the team was 14-7 and had participated in the tournament for the third year in a row. The team's biggest win this year for the girls was against Rockland. The excitement came down to the last seven seconds of the game, when Bridget Larkin sunk a layup to defeat Rockland 53-51. Bridget is this year's Patriot League highest scorer with an average of 20 points per game. Another of the Lady Vikings' most intense games was played against Randolph. The East Bridgewater girls finally emerged victorious in a double overtime. Colleen Prout hit two 3-point shots and Bridget contributed 4 foul shots to bring home the win. Cooperation and determination were major factors in the success of this year's team. Every girl on the team contributed one hundred percent effort to each game. Never before has the Girls Basketball team at E.B. had such talent. Through the past few years, the girls have had a hard-working team and look to have an excellent future.

Girls Hoop

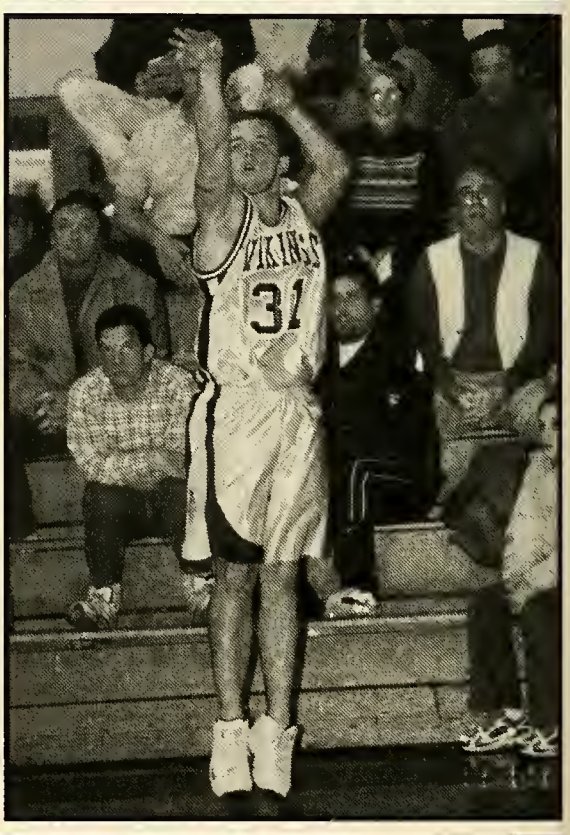
They got Game



This year's Varsity Basketball team was proud of the space they earned in the tournament at Press Time. After making it through round one in the tournament, the team finished the season with a record of 13-9. Coach Fernandez was not only genuinely optimistic, but proud of his team. He said, "The boys worked hard, and showed a lot of heart through good and bad time. Overall, they are a great defensive team."

The Captains of the 2000 Varsity team, Matt Singleton, Dave Capuzzo and Bill Breheny, all showed great leadership, worked hard and kept the team together. The team started off the season with two enormous wins. Against Abington, the Vikings won the game 47-45, with Matt Singleton's two key free throws. Similar to that against

Abington, the Viking's competition with Middleboro was even closer, 47-46, and came down to the last two seconds of the game. The boys were down by two points until Dave Capuzzo's two free throws stole the game. From there the boys went South to Florida, to win the Miami Diamond Auto Classic Tournament. Matt Singleton was named to be a part of the All Tourney team and Dave Capuzzo was tournament MVP.

All of the seniors on the team worked diligently and their experience through four years of varsity play helped in the accomplishment of such a successful season. Jason DaSilva was a model leader for everyone on the team, as he always gave the team 110% effort. The Captains performed not only on the courts but off with the utmost leadership. They may not have won the tournament, but the teamwork shown by the boys proves that they are winners in every way.

Go Vikings

Improving immensely, the inexperienced East Bridgewater Basketball Cheerleading squad had a wonderful season. Many who were just introduced to the sport in December, have really worked diligently, proving to be very talented athletes. The captains: Erin Maloney, Tarah Martell, and Karissa Carey took on the challenge willingly, in the hopes of bettering the program for the future.

Mats, donated to the girls by the Viking Sports Parents, have given them the opportunity to practice more elite level stunts and tumbling. We thank them greatly for their generosity. Seniors, Kathy Lynch, Monique Jones, and Erin Maloney will be greatly missed next year and have worked assiduously with the new girls. The coach, Beth Marcus-Smith, has also been an asset to the team. She has provided the girls with an array of new techniques. The basketball cheerleaders look forward to another great season next year.

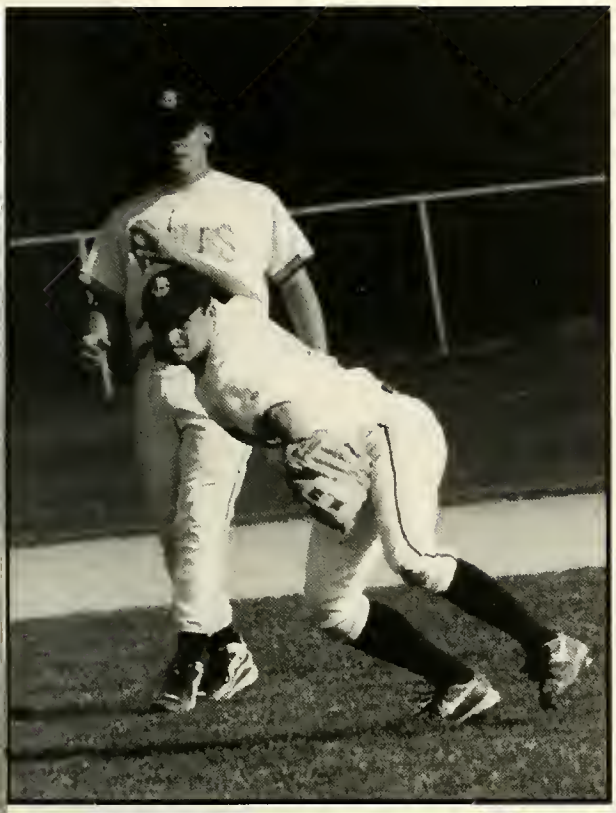
11-9 record



With only two seniors starting on varsity, the Viking baseball team completed its eighth consecutive winning season with an 11-9 Patriot League record. This was enough to qualify the young team for the MIAA State Tournament for the thirteenth time in the last fifteen years. Sophomore pitchers, Rob Andrews and Kevin Luddy, complimented Senior pitchers, Peter Robillard and Chris Robinson. Brian Wasik led the team with a .431 batting average, earning All-League and All-Scholastic Honors. Other All-League selections were Chris Robinson and Matt Singleton. Team honors went to two members of the Class of 2000. The coach's award went to Dave McAuley and the sportsmanship award went to Marik Fiero.

"The East Bridgewater Girls Varsity Softball team had a great year, the best this decade," said Coach Michael Dunphy.

The team finished the season with a record of 16 wins and 7 losses. They advanced to the South Sectional, where they lost to Apponequet in the semi-final round. The highlight of the year came when the Vikings defeated the previously unbeaten Middleboro Sachems 5-1, in the second round of the state tournament.

Members of The Class of 2000 were Colleen Prout, Katelyn Volner, Michelle Cohen, and Erin Folloni. Colleen Prout, an outstanding shortstop, was selected as one of the best offensive players of the year. Katelyn Volner, the catcher, was voted one of the best defensive players of the year. Michelle Cohen, the pitcher, captured best pitcher of the year. She pitched 167 innings in 23 games. Erin Folloni, the first baseman, was also voted best offensive player of the year.

The Vikings had a very successful season, but they could not have done it without the help of every player and their coach, Mr. Michael Dunphy.

The E.B. Boys Track team won their first ever Patriot League title with an outstanding record of 10-0. Every individual played an important role in this season's meets, but unfortunately only a very few get recognized. Those who were key point contributors include captains Pat Hayes, Jim Foley, and Jesse Stevens, as well as Ross Fellows, Adam Corthell, Steve Moylan, Doug Colburn, Kevin Dixon, Mark Margarit, Dave Nilson, Bill Sims, Scott Viscardi, and Kevin McDermott. Most of these boys qualified for States also. The key meet of the season, which determined the championship, was against Rockland. In a controversial photo finish race, Dave Nilson won the 200 meter dash, which was a meet-winning race. The Rockland coach, arguing that his runner won, claimed, "The better team did not win." Those who were on the Vikings team know the better team did win, and that some people are sore losers. Congratulations to the 1999 Viking's boys track team. For the 2000 track season, the captains are Doug Colburn, Kevin Dixon, Mark Margarit, Dave Nilson, and Scott Viscardi.

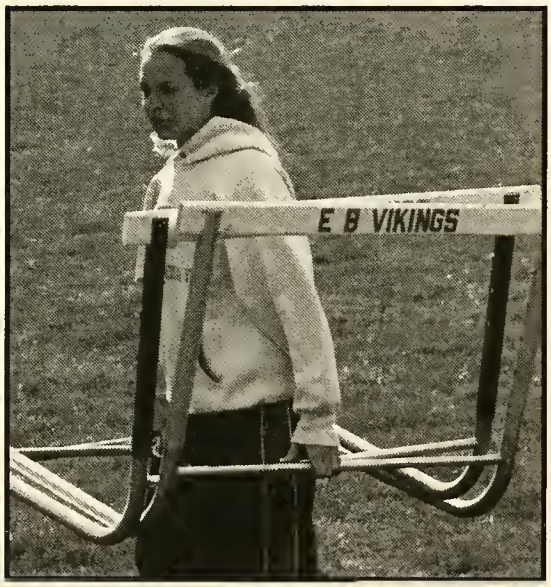
A little bit of runnin' A little bit of chuckin' A lot of Winnin'



The East Bridgewater High School girls spring track team had another successful year. Led by captains Lyndsay Signori, Andrea Mallett, and Kelly Cobb, the team managed a nine win one loss season. The team was well rounded in all events and this was the key to their success. Andrea Mallett excelled in the 100 meter hurdles, high jump, and triple jump, Lyndsay Signori in the long jump and 330 meter hurdles, Jill Smith in the two mile, Nicole Mauger in the 800 and javelin and Karissa Carey and Sarah Rodricks were equally talented in the shot put and discus. Nicole Beddia and Sara Moukalled were two of the oustanding freshmen sprinters on the team.

A lot of recognitions were given to many people in different areas on the team. Andrea Mallett broke the E.B.H.S. high jump record. Lauren Warman, Andrea Mallett, and Karissa Carey won the Heptathalon, which took place in the middle of June 1999. The shuttle hurdle record was broken at the State Relays by the team members Lauren Warman, Nicole Gill, Lyndsay Signori, and Andrea Mallett. Lauren Warman and Andrea Mallett received the All-Scholastic awards from East Bridgewater. The two seniors on the team, Yoko Kotoura and Lauren Warman will always be remembered. Yoko, an exchange student from Japan, lived out her dream of participating in track; something that she couldn't do at home. All the girls on the team appreciated her spirit. Lauren Warman, an athlete successful at whatever she tried, broke the New England 330 meter hurdle record. She also received a full scholarship to Boston University for her amazing athletic ability.

The whole team together was a success and hopes to improve their record to be league champions as they were in 1997 and 1998.

East Bridgewater Vikings

Gotta Love Tennis...

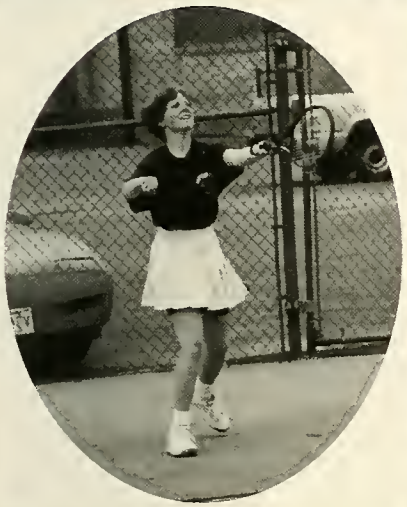
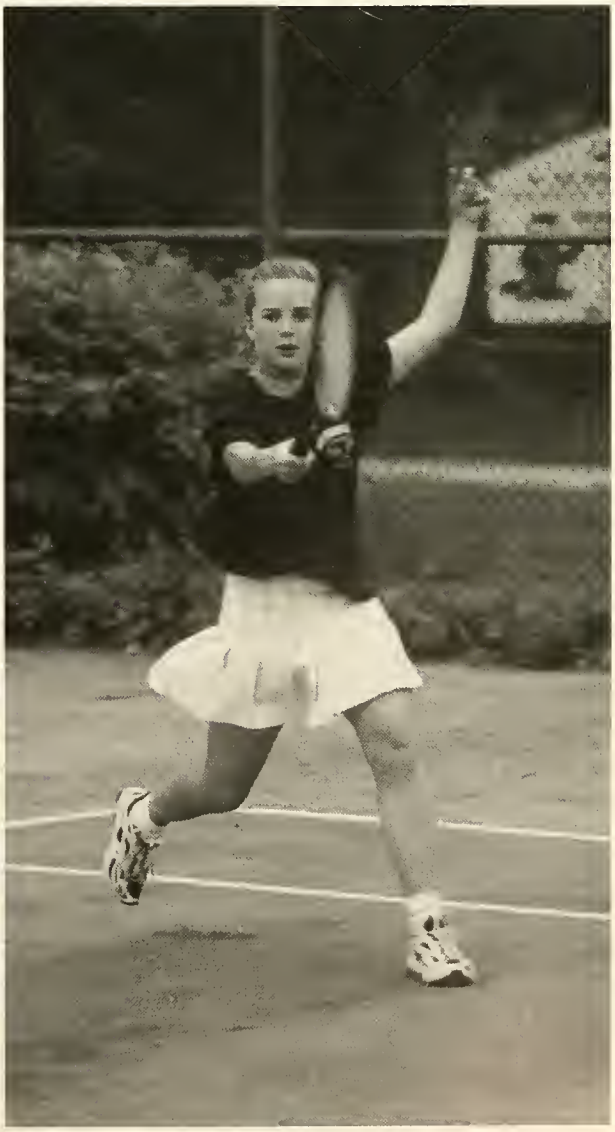
Danielle Chapman and Dave Wechter coached the 1999 Varsity Tennis Team. Christine Wiegand, an exchange student from Germany, led the team and played first singles; Michelle Boucher played second singles; Caitlin Fitzgerald played third singles. Alisa Beretta, Kim Allison, Erin Sheppard, Allison Smith, and Jaime Tressel often shared the responsibility of competing in first and second doubles. Last year, the team won 2 of its matches, which were both against Mashpee. The sportsmanship displayed by all teams made tennis enjoyable. Tennis is a game of honesty and trust. All the players showed these qualities when it came to calling the ball as in or out. There were a lot of first time players, but the returning players made them feel more than welcome. All in all, the members of the '99 East Bridgewater tennis team should be proud of their performance. The Tennis team is still relatively new and continues to grow more and more each year. With several players returning, the team looks forward to the 2000 season and hopes that it will improve upon its record.





Wait a minute, We have a Golf Team?

Despite the fact that the EB Golf Program was in its second year of existence since the program has returned, it turned out to be a successful year that the program can build upon for years to come. Highlighted by a 9-0 victory in the first match of the year good things were to come for the '99 squad. Junior captains Justin Hastings and Bill Benner, accompanied by such players as Michael Tupper, Eric Johnson, Matt Wood, Nate May, Heather Silva, Jesse Conant, Dan Joughin, as well as Chris Palmquist, put together a seven win season for EB. Michael Tupper, Eric Johnson and Nate May all competed in the All-League Meet.

Michael Tupper was the highest finisher, placing 4th out of 21. The Viking golfers, Coached by Mark Howell, rode a hot streak during the month of April and the beginning of May, but came up just short of a tournament bid. The 2000 squad looks to build upon the 1999 season.

"A recent study proved that the most accurate prediction of future success is extensive involvement in student activities. Being a caring, involved student creates a better school experience."

-Mr. McCabe

Try to imagine what EBHS would be like without the various Clubs and Organizations:; there would be nothing to do except homework! Extra-Curricular Activities are an integral part of school life. Every one of us, at one point or another, has benefitted from the activities that the clubs provide. Whether it be laughing at Nick Inglis as he comes "out of the closet", or being transfused with the blood that Jason Brooks donated at the Blood drive, or going on a road trip with The History Club, or lighting your fellow NHS members on fire with the candles at the induction ceremony; the diversity of the East Bridgewater High School Activities program offers something for everyone! It provides the students with an opportunity to interact with members of the faculty as well as their friends. Watching Leanne LeBlanc make cotton candy at Christmas on the Common or witnessing Mark Margarit's, Amanda Collins' and Andrea Mallett's culinary skills at the pancake breakfast, allows us to work together for something besides grades. The clubs, groups and activities make EBHS something more than an institution of secondary education. East Bridgewater High School... There is no Better Place to be involved!

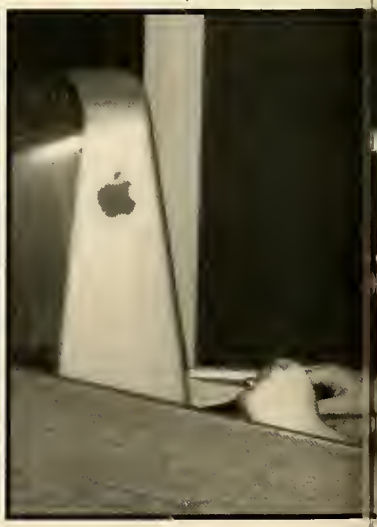
Passing the Torch

Torch (a.k.a. Yearbook) is often the forgotten club. Though most of us look forward to and expect the blue and gold book of memories each year, few of us truly understand how much work goes into its behind-the-scenes production. Long hours of staring at the computer screen not only causes the staff's eyeballs to glaze over; it also creates an inexplicable hunger. The staff is usually on a first name basis with the workers of pizza places such as Sergio's, Papa Gino's and Cape Cod Cafe. Any restaurant that receives an order for "Joslyn" usually knows to clear its schedule for the night.

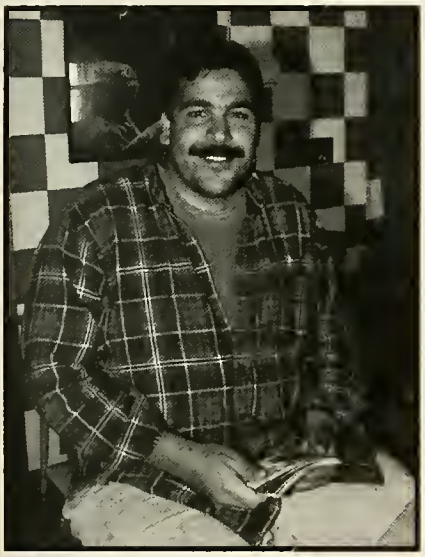
CVS and other photo shops also love the Torch staff, as it routinely drops off multiple rolls of film for one-hour processing. The pharmacies could probably stay in business and open further branches on Yearbook funds alone! Who sorts through the hundreds of pictures vying to make the cut as Yearbook memories? You guessed right, the staff! By the time the book is finished, the staff has memorized the names and faces of fellow students that they have never even met.

Most members of the incredibly small staff are truly dedicated to their work. Ask any staff member where he or she spends their Fridays and Saturdays, and their honest answer will often be, "In Mr. Siddiqui's room, working on the Yearbook." Their assistance is truly appreciated. Some of the staff, however, is more dedicated than others. For instance, of the two Editors, Kim Allison and Tiffany Joslyn, only one made it through the year with the position. One particularly frustrating Friday, Tiffany actually submitted a formal resignation to the staff. Past graduate, Ryan Tressel, filled her shoes for the night, but Tiffany later returned, discovering that she could not stay away from all of the fun.

The staff and Editors are always under a considerable amount of stress, but by far, the most stressful position is that of Yearbook Advisor. For years, this position was filled by Mr. Paone, but this year the Torch was passed to Mr.



Siddiqui. He has given the staff a newly computerized method of designing the Yearbook, as well as more of his time than anyone could ever ask for. Many people can be heard remarking in the hallway that they drove by the school late one night and found a single light still shining in the building. This light belongs to room 312. The light is sometimes an indication that the staff and Editors are hard at work, but even more often, it means that Mr. Siddiqui is still there, putting his creative talents to use to design yet another ingenious layout for the Yearbook. If by chance anyone enjoying the Yearbook at this moment should drive by the school in the future and spot that light, it might be worth while to stop in and say a simple, appreciative "Thank You" to Mr. Siddiqui for making this amazing edition of the Torch possible.



We would be remiss if we didn't thank the 30 plus faculty and students who helped by contributing the written works compiled in the 2000 Torch, so THANKS!!!!!

Justin Hastings, Chris "Fudge Boy" Palmquist, Ms. Cragin, Mark Margarit, Mr. McCabe, T.J. Smith, Mme. Gillespie, Pam DeAngelo, Rachel Anderson, Crystal Sweeney, Josh Laverval, Lyndsay Signori, Amy Smollett, Marik Fiero, Erin Mondeau, Meghan Rosenberg, Karissa Carey, Mr. Cronin, Kelly Rindone/Megan Walden (they are one person), Mr. Dunphy, Suzanne Ferrell-Locke, Nick Inglis, Ryan Morey, Abby Haines, Kelly Cobb, Sarah Gregory-Barton, Robin Morse, Jill Smith, Matt Monteiro, Big Head Ralph (Mike Silvia), Mr. Santos, Ms. Hegarty, Dan Gouthro and Ryan Tressel.

They won AGAIN!!!

Having won the New England Scholastic Band Association championships for the past four years, the East Bridgewater Viking Marching Band, led by Drum Major Suzanne Ferrell-Locke and colorguard captain Sarah Stewart, successfully claimed their title again, now being the only group in East Bridgewater to win a championship title for five years in a row."We did it once, then we did it again, then, we did it again, but then we, again did it, and this year, we did it again. And next year, we'll probably do it again," remarked FON and Buddha, the drumline section leaders. Receiving first place at several shows, including the Viking homeshow, which had not been held for eight years, requires high acheiving skills in several areas. The judges critique visual effect, visual performance, ensemble music, music effect, music performance, and present awards in best colorguard, best percussion, best music, and best overall performance. At finals, held in East Boston this year, the marching band received best percussion, best music, and best overall performance with a score of 92.3, which was earned by the marching band's hard work and dedication. The band spent three strenuous months preparing their show, practicing every Tuesday and Thursday night and every Saturday afternoon. This year's show, titled "Earth, Wind, and Fire", consisted of three songs, "Gotta get You Into my Life" featuring Jessica Jones, Aaron Bush, and Jared Burrell, "After the Love is Gone", which highlighted Aaron Bush and Jared Burrell, and Ed Perry, Phil Perry, Aaron Bush, and Jared Burrell were showcased in the closer, "In the Stone". Despite the fact that the East Bridgewater Viking Marching Band is losing several valuable seniors, Sarah Stewart, Ryan Morey, Rob Chamberlin, Jessica Jones, Mia Jensen, Peter Schnitzler, and Fred Vannucchi, the marching band plans to continue its tradition of excellence in the upcoming season titled "Chicago".

Concert Band

The Concert Band continues to excel at the music department's creed: "The Tradition of Excellence." During the 1999-2000 school year, Band switched to 4th period and Chorus to 3rd making it possible for students to take "Honors Music Performance" and have both Band and Chorus every day. This has dramatically improved the band's ability to perform well. This year the Band has played at their traditional venues as well as the Washington D.C. and MICA. And with only a small group of Seniors leaving, the future looks bright for the Concert Band with many good musicians left. The Band continues to play a wide variety of songs. From Latin Jazz to traditional marches and modern compositions, the Band performs them to their highest capacity. With limited resources and time, the Concert Band is and always will be, a powerful performance group in the High School and Community.

Concert Choir

This 1999-2000 school year is proving to be another amazing year for the East Bridgewater High School Concert Choir. This year, along with the Concert Band, Marching Band and Rythmix, the Concert Choir is going to Washington, D.C. Like previous trips, this will surely be a memorable experience. Currently the choir has over a hundred members. Ms. Sharyn Bell, in her seventh year of directing the Concert Choir, has made the choir grow, not only in size, but also in quality. Her flawless (and patient) direction has made the East Bridgewater Concert Choir one of the best mixed choirs in the area. As the largest elective in the school, the East Bridgewater Concert Choir has been amazing full auditoriums of East Bridgewater citizens since its revival with Ms. Bell's hiring.

Rythmix

The select group of choral singers, The Rythmix, have been a tremendous music group in the town. Whether it's dazzling audiences at the annual spring and holiday concerts, or at the pops concert, this group has made the East Bridgewater Music Department a real force in the state. This group of about twenty-four singers has even performed for the Women's Club in town, and they had the ladies cheering and dancing in their seats. The Rythmix practice on Monday nights and their extra effort shows through in their performances. Led by Ms. Sharyn Bell, this group is only growing larger and stronger.

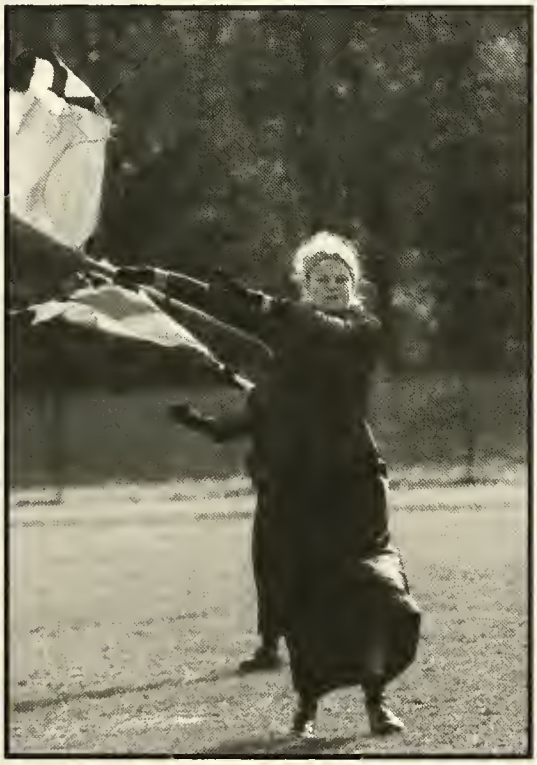
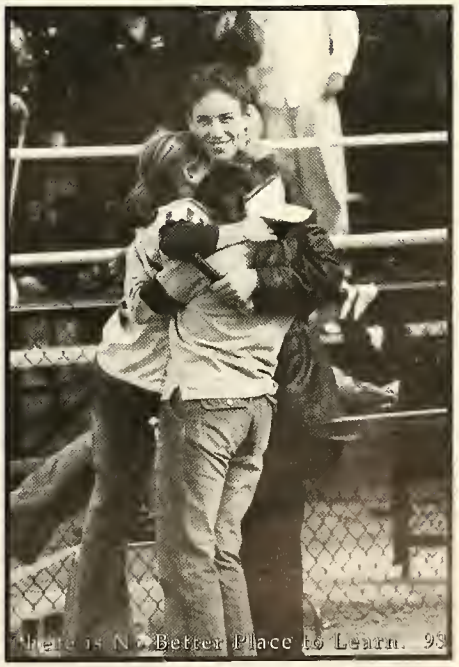
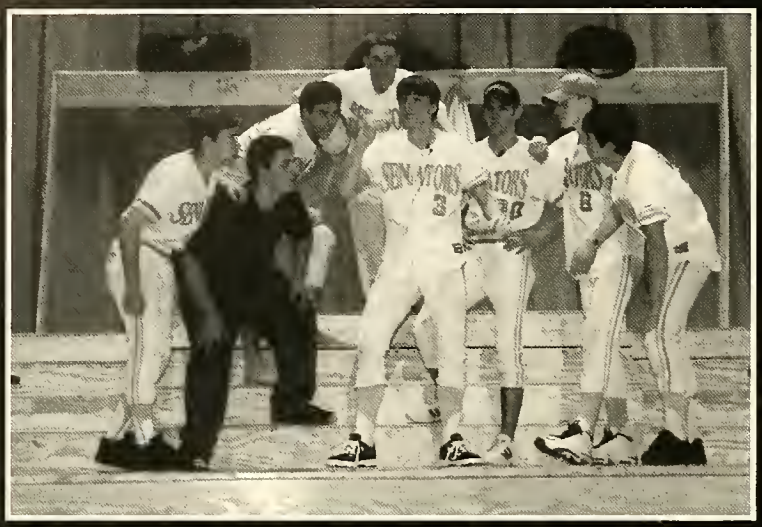
THE TRADITION CONTINUES

GYMNASIUM





DRAMA



In the spring of 1999, the Drama club along with advisors Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Miller gave a spectacular rendition of the musical "Damn Yankees." One of the most memorable aspects of the show was the surprise cameo appearance made by Mr. Cronin, Mr. Burkett, Mr. Cushing, and Mr. Siddiqui as enthusiastic baseball fanatics. Nick Inglis protrayed the lead role of "Shoeless Joe from Hannibal, Mo", and was supported by Ryan Morey's Van Buren, Stephanie Safko's Meg Boyd, and Jared Burrell's Joe Boyd. Leigh Ann Brosnihan as Sister, Leah Tedesco, as Doris, Dan Gouthro as Lowe, Ed Perry as Mickey, and Buddha as Schovik rounded out the team.

From the murder of Mr. Boddy (portrayed by sophomore Justin Bois) to Mr. Green's final declaration, "Clue" was a murderously funny play performed be the Drama Club 1999-2000. It was staged on the weekend of November 5-6, 1999. The dedication of the cast, crew, and director, Mrs. Helen Cox, made the performance a success. Senior Ryan Morey portrayed the lead role of Wadsworth. Rob "Fon" Chamberlain as Colonel Mustard, Michael Silvia as Professor Plum, Nick Inglis-Feagins as Mr. Green , Jessica Gammons as Ms. Scarlet, Leigh Ann Brosnihan as Mrs. White, and Mia Jensen, the exchange student from Denmark, as Yvette are all members of the graduating class of 2000. The audience was spellbound as the characters were introduced and then promptly knocked off. A wrench, lead pipe, knife, rope, revolver, and candle stick were never used so effectively as in the hands of the assassin masterfully portrayed by Stephanie Fatt. The play got rave reviews from people of all ages. Laughter filled the auditorium as the actors unraveled the mystery. Mrs. Cox was presented with a bouquet of lovely flowers and Mrs. Peacock's golden slipper. Never the same show twice, "Clue" was an enjoyable show for the audience and cast alike.

Key Club

The Key Club is the junior chapter of the Kiwanis Club. Led by president Kelly Cobb, and officers, Mark Margarit, Amy Smollett, Pam DeAngelo, Jill Smith, and of course Mr. McCabe, the Key Club had its first major event of the year which was the annual Children's Halloween Party, held Halloween night in the cafeteria for kids in grades K-3. Members dressed in costumes and entertained the guests with games such as Simon Says, Freeze Dance, and Donut on a String. This was followed closely by the Kiwanis Christmas on the Common, where the club sold popcorn and cotton candy. The 24th annual pancake breakfast was also a success. All money went into funds for charities and scholarships. The members are also anticipating the upcoming first-ever "Seniors Prom", where the older members of the community can "bust a move" with their Key Club dates. By far, however, the biggest and most profitable event of the year is the Lock-In. For one night, from 9pm to 6am, students are "locked-in" the main floor and mini gym area, where they can attend an all night dance in the mini gym, participate in sports such as basketball and volleyball in the gym, watch movies of several different genres, and listen to live bands in the auditorium. In 1999, this event raised over $13,000 for scholarship, surpassing the record set the previous year. Whether it be dancing with the seniors or entertaining trick-or-treaters, Key Club members always enjoy serving their community.

STAND

Stand is a unique group of caring, open-minded students who advocate tolerance through a policy of awareness, while reaching out to and speaking out for those who have been and are discriminated against in the school. It is an 'umbrella group:' that is to say it shelters and provides support for people who have been victimized by racial, gender, body-type, age, heritage, sexual orientation, or religious (etc...) based discrimination. The STAND group has had speakers from the Department of Education come in to speak to the faculty and a presentation to the student body is in their sights for the near future. It is vital to eliminate needless discrimination in any setting. However, in doing so in a school it makes the learning process safer and more enjoyable for everyone involved, and though the process is arduous, the STAND feels it is well worth it. If you are alike in mind, give us a visit! STAND meets on the Fridays opposite of AFS till 2:15.

SADD

Students Against Destructive Decisions is a group of concerned students working together to help their fellow students. The club discusses several different topics, all that are related to teenagers in the committee. The most frequently discussed issues include drunk driving, the use of drugs, and violence awareness. The group will pick a topic, understand and outline how it relates to and effects the teenagers at EBHS. From there the students work together to form a solution or create ways in which the problem could be helped. That's when the group jumps into action. Once they get some ideas they start making the problem an issue. They make people aware. Common and past strategies include making posters, announcements, bulletins, and fliers. In addition they often do fund-raisers to help their cause. Every year the group goes to a state wide conference for SADD in which all the students from the area meet to help solve concerns together. This year's club includes advisor Mr. Shippee and faithful attendees Jill Smith, Monique Jones, and Justin Hastings.

Student Senate

Student Senate promotes unity among school activities. The Senate is composed of representatives from each school club as well as five representatives from each class. The President of the Student Senate is the Junior Class President, Jill Smith and the Senate is advised by the Student Activities Coordinator, Madame Gillespie. Since all clubs and grades are represented the Senate is as diverse a group as the High School has, but one of the major goals of the Senate this year has been to encourage togetherness within the student body. The Senate takes part in such activities as the Bloodmobile, teacher appreciation and they are also included in the administrative activities such as the Student Advisory Committee to the Principal, the High School Council and the School Committee. Student Senate plays an active role in the livelihood of the school.

French Club

Was the French Club was organized to spread the French language and culture to the community, or just to get a picture in the year book, the world will never know. Started by a group of students with a love for the language, and advised by Madame Gillespie, the French Club promotes diversity and the appreciation of a culture other than our own. The French Club lends their time to teaching elementary school children about the French Language to provide a multi-cultural experience at an early age. Not only a club for French students, the French Club invites any person who has an interest in the culture to join. Vivre la Français!!!

Art Club

The Art Club is responsible for some of the decor located throughout the building. In the past they have designed and produced the stain glass window over the main doors and most recently the Art Club created the Humantree in the center stairwell. Since last year the members have made their own leaf to place on the tree. The Art Club is also responsible for half of the exhibits in the Museum of Fine Arts. (Just kidding) There are a lot of new members this year along with President Rachel Anderson, Vice-President Shawn Anderson, Treasurer Kara Joy, and Secretary Jessica Zahka. The Art Club is Advised by Mrs. Carolyn Barnes.

A.F.S.

Germany, Denmark, and Panama are this year's A.F.S. countries. The American Field Service, or A.F.S., is a club dedicated to spreading ideas and changing lives. Every year East Bridgewater hosts a group of exchange students through the A.F.S. exchange program. Mia Jensen, Peter Schnitzler, and Fred Vannucchi make up this year's group. These students come to E.B. for a year, stay with a host family and attend E.B.H.S. The A.F.S. Club helps these students adapt to E.B.H.S. and learn about American life. At the same time the A.F.S'ers are able to learn about other cultures and meet different and interesting people. So far this year the club officers; Tiffany Joslyn, President, Erin Sheppard, Vice President , Suzanne Ferrell-Locke, Treasurer, and Jaime Tressel, Secretary, along with their Advisor, Mr. Ferrell-Locke, have been hard at work organizing dinners, fundraisers and field trips. The group will be hosting all the areas A.F.S students for the annual A.F.S. weekend in March. So far the year has been great and all the club members are looking forward to the fun to come.

Tommorrow's Teachers

If you are interested in becoming a teacher, you might want to consider checking out Tomorrow's Teachers Club. Mrs. Sloan, one of the head supervisors says that the club is trying to promote and encourage teaching; and not only in public schools, but even across seas and other places. In the club the kids meet and discuss things such as holding a conference, guest speakers, and field trips. With the innovation of the Reach Out program, kids from tomorrow's teachers club would help volunteer at the middle school or central school. One field trip included a trip to Camp Borgass in Sandwich as well as another to Bridgewater State College to sit in on college courses. The club meets every Wednesday after school. The tomorrow's teachers Club is lead by an all-star cast of EBHS students: Steve Moore as Mr. President, Caitlin Colombo as the Second in Command, Meg Welkjovic as the girl who writes stuff down, and Maura Gardner as the Keeper of Funds. Mrs. Sloan and Mrs. O'Brien advise the club. Also included is an ensemble cast of twenty other supporting students.

Future Nurses

Future Nurses and Health Careers is a national club for students who are interested in nursing and other medical fields. Part of the clubs responsibilities are fund-raising for various groups around the area, such as homeless shelters, nursing homes, etc. The money raised is used for scholarships to members of the club. The Future Nurses Club is not only about fund-raising, they also participate in field trips, such as to local hospitals where they would take a tour and visit areas that interest them. The Club is both for girls and boys, but so far this year only girls have joined. The head of the Club is Mrs. Urban, the school nurses. The club officers are: President Erin Young, Vice-President Michelle Roan, Secretary Amanda Longo, and treasurer Meagan Bosworth. Anyone who has an interest in the medical field is urged to join this club.

History Club

History is everyone's favorite subject. Everyone has an interest in History. Ask the question, "How did that happen?" and the response will undoubtedly be somewhat historical. You can have little understanding of the present, and no idea of the future without knowledge of the past. At best, history will only provide some insight into the future. However, without a collective memory a society can not have a well-formed sense of identity. The purpose of the History Club is to foster and better understand the most interesting subject any person can pursue. History is happening!

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society held it's annual induction ceremony on November 23, 1999. That night, forty-two new members were inducted, which raised the total numbers of members to seventy-two. The National Honor Society is advised by Ms. Mason, and led by President Matthew Monteiro, Vice-President Mark Margarit, Secretary Kirsten Johnson, Treasurer Amanda Collins, and Tutor Coordninator Marik Fiero. The club stands for service, character, scholarship, and leadership.

On December 22, 1999, The N.H.S. will bring gifts and holiday cheer to children that have to spend their Christmas in the Brockton Hospital. The National Honor Society is a very prestigious club, and the class of 2000 members are very proud to be the scholastic leaders of East Bridgewater High School.

Math Team

After 5:00 on Thursday nights you'll only see one classroom with its lights on. In Mr. Siddiqui's room, the Math Team is at work practicing for the next meet. Pizza is usually bought, delivered courtesy of Palmquist's Fudge-Mobile and President-in-training, Florida Boy (you know, the one that went to Florida).

Led by Math Team President Michael Silvia, 10 students attend each meet, on the first Thursday of each month. From November to February, the team competes with other schools to earn the most points. Sophomores Suzanne Ferrell-Locke and Emily Anne Patt teamed up with seniors Nicole Gill and Big Head Ralph to lead all scorers. Hey 4th place isn't that bad...after all, what do you think we are, geeks?

. . . and out of this place

"Hats off to the memorable class of 2000! Not only are you special individually, you are special as a class -the first class of the new millennium!"

-Mrs. O'Brien
& Ms. Carlson

More than a grade level, being a senior is it's own attitude. It's being at the end of your formal education, being the role models of the school, and being the young adults everyone expects us to be. It's been four long years and it's finally come to end. For some of us, this is the end, and for others it is just the beginning. We've gone from immature freshman on the first day of school, to respectable young adults as we prepare to graduate from high school. There were times we wish we had never gone to school, but also times where we never wanted to leave. High school is an experience like no other. It's an important time in all of our lives as we struggle to accomplish our goals and define ourselves as individuals.

As the next chapter in our young lives closes, we look to the future for prosperity and opportunity. High school will always be a fond memory for most of us and something we will constantly look back to. As our impending graduation arrives, let us look back at high school as the next step in our lives and the stepping stone to our success. It's been an amazing four years and hopefully not the end to a successful and wonderful life.

Best of Luck to the Class of 2000!

A Memorable Goodbye

Dear Class of 2000,

Well, it's almost here, graduation that is. Most of you have waited for this since you started school in kindergarten, probably for different reasons. The class of 2000 has grown and learned together. We learned about coloring and pottery from Mrs. Douglas in the Central School. We learned about the outdoors while at Nature's Classroom and remember the middle school dances where the majority of boys and girls were split on separate sides of the cafeteria. We remember how big the seniors looked when we were freshmen and how much we looked up to them. Well, now we are them. It is so difficult to understand how seventeen or eighteen years of our lives just flew by so quickly. What is even more strange though, is that we are not even half way through life. Soon, some us will be full-time employees, be attending college, or will have chosen some other path. In time, we may get married, have children, and eventually retire in our old age. To say the least, we still have a long way to go! Anyway, no matter where we go or what we become, everyone will always remember the good (and bad!) memories from school. It sounds kind of far off, but our five-year reunion will come fast. It will be nice to see how our old best friend turned out or what the class's students who were chosen most likely to succeed are doing. May we all be able to follow our dreams and live life to its fullest. Take advantage of everything, but do not take things for granted; help others, and leave a lasting impression. Whichever path you choose, do your best and love what you do. Take your time in life, love it for the journey, not the destination. Don't forget to have fun while doing these things. Lastly, never forget that we are the Class of 2000.

Your Class President,

Amy Smollett

"...After graduation Sunday, the Seniors will be gone. Then it will be up to you to carry on the traditions and uphold the integrity of East Bridgewater High School. We know that you'll come through and be the leaders of next year."

-As said to the Junior Class every year

As unlikely as it seems, the Underclassmen represent the future here at East Bridgewater High School. Whether it be the scared tiny Freshmen, the stupefied and only less tiny Sophomores, or the overconfident but still kind of tiny Juniors, one thing is certain: without Underclassmen, there could be no Seniors.

For the Freshmen, Senior year may seem eons away, but with all the time spent searching for the "Fourth Floor Pool," Sophomore year arrives before they know it.

And what can we say about Sophomore year? Nothing. It's just like Freshmen year only taller. Or in the words of Sophomore Class President, Suzanne Ferrell-Locke, "One down, three to go!"

Junior year signifies a period of intense change and introspection. Who better to speak on that than Junior Class President (and Pink Power Ranger) Jill Smith. "As a Junior, the future seems more like a reality, something almost in reach. What seems like an eternity has now become but a reflection on the past." We congratulate the Juniors on their hard work and dedication in the past three years and wish the best of luck to all Underclassmen.

THE CLASS OF 2001!

With a President like Jill Smith you could never have a better class. The Junior Class is probably one of the most interesting classes ever to grace the halls of EBHS. The class executive committee has been extremely dedicated through its last three years. Led by its committed officers: Jill Smith, Pam DeAngelo, Rachel Anderson and Meg Rosenberg , the Class of 2001 has never failed to impress the entire school. This year the class had an extremely successful Homecoming celebration. Their skit, a take off of the Britney Spears video Crazy, was received with amorous applause. With their vibrantly decorated "Bridge" slash "Float" they took home the winning trophy, which Jill happily accepted! Another significant contribution from the junior class was "Open Mic Night". This tradition was started last year and with a significant amount of hard work, the juniors brought it back for another whirl. Overall the event turned out great, not only did it raise big bucks, but it gave the students of EBHS an opportunity to express themselves and see another side of their fellow classmates. The Junior Prom was held in May and turned out to be a magnificent success. The Class is ready to take on the task of leading the school next year.

The Class of 2002 enjoyed the 1999-2000 school year. Playing the role of Commander-in-Chief was Suzanne Ferrell-Locke. Her second in command was none other than Nicole Beddia. Holly Runnals was always there to keep track of the hoards of money that was being raised and Deanne Aucoin did her best to keep track of who was doing what, and when they were doing it. Every Thursday afternoon the class movers and shakers could be found in the Art room thinking up new ideas, making snowflakes, or just sitting around being very loud. Starting in the Summer of '99 the Executive Committee was hard at work planning fundraisers. Beginning with a record setting car wash at the start of the summer, the Class of 2002 was off and running. Car washes, pin sales and grilled cheese sandwiches were some of the ideas that the Class of 2002 tried to turn into cash to help reduce the costs of running a class. From the beginning of the year there was a push to get the class more organized. The Executive Committee formed a subcommittee that was given the task of writing a class constitution. The constitution was written and passed before the class and now stands as the definitive set of guidelines for the class operations. In October, the Class of 2002 participated in the Homecoming Festivities by entering a float dipicting the history of the East Bridgewater Mascot. The float showed the evolution from the Warriors to the Easties (whatever they are?) to the mighty Vikings and beyond. During the month of December the Class ran a booth at Christmas on the Common and sold hot soup and grilled cheese sandwiches to the hungry crowds. Throughout the months of January and Feburary the Sophomores were hard at work with the members of the Senior Class preparing for the School Semi-Formal, "Winter Wonderland". What seemed like thousands of snowflakes were created to make the high school cafeteria the "coolest" place to be on February 12, 2000. The Class of 2002: now it's "Two down, two to go."

"Everybody wants to be like the class of 2003!" Well, maybe not everybody, but those fortunate enough to be members of the incredible group this year were led by a strong President, Abigail Haines, as well as the newest member of the faculty, Mr. O'Rourke. Beginning the year with the Homecoming pep rally, the insecure upperclassmen felt the need to boo us, and let's just say that we felt terribly lucky to be greeted with such a warm welcome at East Bridgewater High School. The next day, the class of 2003 participated in the Homecoming parade by making a float depicting a young child walking into the high school and strolling out as a Senior in a graduation cap and gown.

In gathering together for the Freshmen dinner, we experienced quite a change in the usual manner with which the upperclassmen tended to treat us. We watched in awe as they waited on us hand and foot. The upperclassmen quickly put an end to the illusion, however, when they promised, "We're not ever going to serve you again, so you had better enjoy it while it lasts!"

In December, we sold cookies at Christmas on the common. After finishing the day with only 50 dollars in profit, we realized that cookies were not going to pay for our proms. For this reason, we decided that we would be better off to keep raising money. In order to further this goal, we held the greatly successful student vs. faculty basketball game, which helped us not only to raise money, but to leave an enduring mark on the school. All in all, we've had a great year, but nonetheless, we are looking forward to next year, when we will no longer be the Freshmen.

. . . and on to

"Academics not only prepare you for further education, but also guarantee you success in your future."

-Ms. Hegarty

So you must be wondering, "The Academic Section, what could possibly be interesting and worth looking at in the Academics Section?" Well, if you do not look, you'll be missing out on some of the best pages in the book. Anyone that has gone through the EBHS education program knows that there is a lot of effort put into the success of the students. For the students who take their academic success seriously, it is believed that coming from our high school they are well-equipped to continue a higher education or enter the work force. No matter what level a student is, whether he or she is taking derivatives in calculus class or learning about the tragedies of Shakespeare, East Bridgewater provides a strong education for anyone who is willing to put in the effort.

Often, the clubs and classes that are an integral part of the school are not given the attention they deserve. Therefore, Academics is devoted to recognizing the many accomplishments of the journalism publications, the student government organizations and an impressive program called My Turn. As you can see the Academic section features some of the best and the brightest at EBHS and that the organizations are a respectable and important part of our school. Many of our students have gone on to outstanding colleges and had great success in the world as a result of their East Bridgewater education. With a strong sense of academic pride and respect, East Bridgewater High School proves that scholarship is a truly divine trait.

THE BEST OF EBHS

My Turn

The MY TURN experience for participants this year has been exciting, challenging, and rewarding. The exceptional students who were selected for MY TURN benefited from an enhanced academic experience through a variety of activities in and out of the classroom. In the classroom, lessons and activities focused on self awareness, substance abuse prevention, community service, public speaking, conflict resolution, and career exploration. Through the Guest Speaker series, students learned about the importance of time management, decision making, and goal setting. At the MY TURN orientation at the John F. Kennedy Library and Museum in Boston, the students learned about leadership and the impact they can make on their own community. As guests of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department, the students enjoyed a holiday skate at the Frog Pond in Boston Common to reward them for their achievements. Project Youth at the Massachusetts Correctional Facility in Norfolk gave students and opportunity to learn about what can occur as a result of poor decision making and substance abuse. Students listened to the stories of the inmates who were 16-20 years old and were serving sentences that ranged from 25 years to life. The annual Recognition Ceremony was a wonderful evening that the students shared with Dr. Riordan, Mr. Kelly, Mr. Fairfield, faculty, and parents. MY TURN's Career Development Conference challenged students to demonstrate the skills they have developed throughout the year and was one of the two big highlights for the students. The second highlight that students eagerly anticipated was a whitewater rafting trip where students worked as a team while they were being challenged individually. The students in MY TURN had an outstanding year where they were able to enjoy academic and personal enrichment experiences.

Student Advisory Councils to Principal & School Committee

The Student Advisory Councils to the Principal & School Committee are the voice of the students at EBHS. The five representatives, of the Student Advisory Council to the School Committee, meet at the weekly school committee meetings. Kirsten Johnson, Steven Moore, Jill Smith, Justin Hastings, and Pam DeAngelo are the five students voted to represent the student body. They attend meetings with the faculty and administration here at the high school and help to give the students perspective on current issues of EBHS. The representatives take the information discussed at the Student Advisory Council to the Council to the Principal. This group of students take the information from the other Committee and incorporate it at the meetings with Principal Kelly. These students work with the Principal to directly provide the faculty with students' voices. Because they are directly elected to their positions, all the students are trusted with this important task. By providing the faculty, school committee, & the community with the opinions, ideas and voice of the student body, both the Student Advisory Councils help create a harmonious environment for everyone in East Bridgewater.

The Viking Saga

A compilation of short stories, poetry, and non fiction works of literature, the Viking Saga is a tradition at EBHS. Every year the Creative Writing class works to publish this piece each June. With the help of advisor, Mr.Dunphy, the Viking Saga has become a well respected publication througout the school and community. This year Seniors Stephanie Patt and Meg Weljkovic are the editors.

Regional & State Student Advisory Representatives

Nicole Gill and Doug Colburn

Each year two students from every school are elected to the Regional Student Advisory Council (RSAC), this years representatives are Nicole Gill and Doug Colburn. At RSAC two cochairs, a recorder, and eight delegates are elected and are sent to the State Student Advisory Council (SSAC), Nicole Gill is one of the elected State Representatives also. The state council then elects a vice chair and a chair. The chair then becomes a voting member on the board of education. Both the RSAC and SSAC meets once a month.

This year both SSAC and RSAC split into three subcommittees who work separately. In RSAC outreach worked on making a packet to get students aware of SAC and their rights as students. The school issues worked on a recommended attendance policy and the violence (social climate) also worked on a packet. In SSAC the outreach committee broke into two groups and worked on getting SAC in schools and also getting SAC known. The legislative committee is working on getting their teacher evaluation bill passed. The issues committee is working on MCAS and violence issues. The main goal of SAC is to represent students on the Board of Education and to stand up for their rights.

Each semester a group of students work together to give the school and the community, a masterful literary accomplishment, the school newpaper. Mr.Cronin, the acting advisor, guides each group of students through the publication process to make theViking Voice an extremely significant part of EBHS.

Future Leaders of America

The problem with today's society is the inadequate participation of our youth in the political system of our country. Many young people are complaining about the corruption of our political system, but few do anything to change it. This past summer, six boys and thirteen girls from East Bridgewater High School had their chance to show what they thought of politics in this country. These nineteen students spent one week of their late summer participating in a program of political studies at Stonehill College for the boys and Mount Holyoke for the girls. The program is meant to bring together young adults and to teach them how the government works. The students spent the week living on the campus and joining in various activities through the day. Over three hundred local area students were involved with the program. The students were divided into municipalities and were expected to carry out the duties as if they were real. Students had the chance to learn how government operates and also to be a part of it, either by working on a committee or running for office. The boys had the chance to work in appointed as well as elected positions. All and all, Boy's State was an experience that was enjoyable for the boys who attended and an experience that should be had by all. Both educational and fun, Boy's State was an excellent learning experience for those who attended and an excellent opportunity for the boys. As for Girl's State, well that's a whole different matter.

"To infinity and beyond!" - Buzz Lightyear

That should be the theme of the East Bridgewater community. A large part of the production of the Torch is community sponsorship through advertising. Many of the ads in this year's book have been with us for ten consecutive years. In fact at least half of those advertisers, if not more, have been with us for twenty years. And all plan to be with us for as long as there is a yearbook at EBHS.

These advertising alumni include East Bridgewater Savings Bank, Batti's Auto, Dr.Levitt, Towne Cleaners, Dewhurst Lumber, Pat Snow's Academy, East Bridgewater Co-operative, East Bridgewater High School Key Club, South Shore Savings Bank, Power's Auto, Robert McCarthy Attorney at Law, Baggia Press, Bob Graham Auto, Wales-Prophett Funeral Home, Ye Olde Standish Grille, Commercial Club, and East Bridgewater High School Student Senate. As you can see, these different businesses and organizations make up something else besides our final pages. They make up our community.

Established in 1823, East Bridgewater is a community not made up of streets and rivers, nor boundaries and titles. It's made up by the people. The people who give their time and their money are the most important component of our community. It is this year, the final yearbook of the millennium, that we should take a look at these people. Without them we would not be a community.

The yearbook committee, the Torch, would like to formally thank everyone who has helped us build this great project. It is the dedication of all these people who have been with us for so long that inspires others to join and help out. Thank you for your support, it is infinitely appreciated.

Sincerely,

The Torch

Nicholas:

Be yourself- but be your best self.
Dare to be different and to follow your own star
And don't be afraid to be happy!!

Enjoy what is beautiful.
Love with all your heart and soul.
Believe that those you love, love you.

When you're faced with a decision,
Make the decision as wisely as possible-
Then forget it.
The moment of absolute certainty never arrives.

We love you
Mom, Dad and Amanda

Jamie,

Follow your dreams and reach for the stars. The sky is the limit. We've watched you grow into a beautiful young woman. Remember always how proud we are of you.

Mom, Dad and Eddie

Sharrel,
We know you'll be all you can be in your life.
Never forget your friends!
Love,
Mom, Dad and Nick
XOXO

Britsco,

Congratulations, our baby's all grown, and what a joy! We love your crazy sense of humor, and your warm and caring ways. The way you make sure of every little thing, and the love, and enthusiasm for X-mas decorating!!
We are so proud of the person that you've become. The genuine qualities you hold will bring you great things. Now you're ready to face life and its challenges. You're focused with great goals, and you'll be great at whatever you choose.

It's when you were a baby, we are behind every step you take. How lucky can parents be to get two of the best daughters ever! Papa's proud of his little gardener too!

Love,

Mom, Dad, Kelly + Mi-Mi

Lauren,

Our precious little girl has grown into a beautiful, loving and caring young lady. We are proud of your accomplishments and wish every success and happiness for you.

Love you always,
Mom, Dad, Bobby, Adam, Kristen + John

Nicole,
We are so proud of all your accomplishments but also the loving and caring young woman you've become. Follow your heart.

We love you,
Mom, Dad and Chris

"Does life get any better than this?"

Jessica & John,

May the best of life be yet to come!

We love you,
Mom and Dad

Andi,

Congratulations on your awesome years at EBHS! We wish for you love, luck and happiness as you experience all the best that life has to give! Good luck and God Bless!

Love,
Mom, Dad, Rob and Sarah

Doug,
Words cannot convey our sense of pride as we've watched you grow from boyhood to manhood. Your enthusiasm and determination are an inspiration to all around you. As you enter the door of adulthood remember to aim high and give it your best, you'll be pleased with the results. Always remember your entire family loves you and we are all very proud of your accomplishments.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Rick, Rachel
Colburn and Marx Families

Linny B,

We stand in awe of your Academic and Athletic excellence. Always be true to yourself.

Love,
Dad, Mom,
Michael, Lea & Olivia

Lauren,

When you gaze into the mirror, you see a grown-up person looking back. When we look at you, we see so much more...

a wide eyed infant, checking out her "new digs"
a mischievous toddler, getting into things she shouldn't (i.e. trash)
a worried little girl, concerned by her mommy's tears a smiling dancer, so poised on stage a confused teenager, trying to find her voice (and succeeding too well at times) an engaging young woman, who promises to be so much more!

And so Lau-Lau, eighteen years of "never a dull moment" later, we want to tell you how proud we are and how much we look forward to being there for "Lauren, the adult". Don't forget- "Be good to everyone!" and always remember who loves you.

Mom, Dad, Kara and Adam

Kerrin,

Listen to your heart
Develop that talent
Follow that dream
You'll reach higher
and climb farther
than you ever thought possible.
You and that smile
will be amazing.

We love you,

Mom & Dad

Chris,

We have watched you grow into a wonderful young man. You have the ability to take yourself wherever you want to go in life. We love you "all there is and more."

Love,
Dad, Mom and
Amanda

Ryan,

You are bright, caring, honest and humorous. Trust in yourself and these assets will take you far. We are very proud of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Justin and Jenna

Matt,
You may not think that you have the talent that you strive for- but you certainly have the heart! You're every parent's dream come true- Thank You for all the fun! Congratulations and Best Wishes for more to come!

Love,
Mom, Gregg, Jay

Mark,
The only thing greater than your potential is your integrity and character. We are so proud of you.

Love you.

Mom, Dad, Derek and Marisa

Amy,

How lovely your smile and your gentile ways... Spread your wings and make your mark in life. Your determination, respect for others, and accomplishments have made us very proud.

Love ya Punkin,
Mom, Dad & Zach

Marisa,

We knew if you held on long enough, you'd make it. We love you and we're so proud of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad & Kelly

Amy,
Our shining star. Keep that positive attitude and you will succeed in what ever the future holds for you. We love you. Thanks for being so special.

Love,
Mom, Dad, David, Nan

Kelly,
You really are a princess!
Love,
Mom and Dad

Jess,
Proudly we have watched you develop into a talented young woman with the confidence to fulfill your dreams. You have completed one part of your journey. The world awaits. The best is yet to come. Stay in tune with your dreams and keep the beat!

Mum, Dad and the gang

Susan,
We are very proud of all you've accomplished. Your creativity and enthusiasm will make your college years a wonderful experience.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Tom and Stacey

Erin,
Your dazzling smile, your sense of humor and your joy for life are just some of the precious gifts you have shared with family and friends.

We are so very proud of you!
All our love,

Mom, Katie and Lauren

Tony,
You have brought an abundance of love and joy into our lives. We thank God for sending you to us! We pray for wisdom and, perserverance to guide you, and always remain the unique, caring and honorable young man you are.

Love you so much,
Mom, Dad and Tommi

Bill,
We've had a wonderful time leading you down the paths that together we have chosen. Now, we look forward to walking beside you as you continue on life's journey. Thank you for many years of happiness and for being a positive role model to your brothers and sisters.

All our love,
Dad, Mom, Sean, Elyse and Victoria

Brian,
We all just simply love you very much. You're a great role model for your nieces and nephews.
Love,
Mom & Dad & the whole family

Kirsty,
You are our shining star. We are so very proud of your accomplishments and your commitment to making the world a better place. We wish for you a life filled with happiness, service to others and personal success.

Love,
Dad, Mom and Erick

Meaghan,

We are so proud of you.
Keep your own words close to your heart!

Sometimes I am happy
Sometimes I am sad
Sometimes I am upon a frown and Sometimes I am glad
But just remember this only thing
if you are feeling blue
If you just get your heart pumping you won't feel so bad.

(MKO 1986)

We love you!
Mom, Dad and Bethany

Justin,
Keep your desire to be the best you can be and your dreams will come true. Laugh while you work, smile as you learn and remember- we all love you and are so very proud of all your high school accomplishments.

Love you forever-
Mom and Dad
Laura and Craig

Billy,
Here you are a graduate! We can hardly believe it. You've grown into a wonderful young man and we're so very proud of you. Always strive to do your best, but remember to enjoy the world around you. You've got what it takes... so get in the game!
And-oh-by the way- it doesn't matter if you win or lose- when you wear a great smile and have a twinkle in your eye!

Love you,

Mom, Dad,
Elisa and Garrett

Katelyn,

We wish for you all the best that life has to offer- go for it.

Message of the Day: Congratulations to all of you who survived my class. Typically this is the portion of the yearbook where a loved one gets to say all that mushy, sappy stuff, but I'm not going to do that, instead I will leave you with these parting words. If I had a book that I used, you would all be fives in it. Thanks for all you hard work and dedication.

Top Ten Most Memorable Phrases

10. We need a bigger monitor!
9. (Fill in the blank) is stupid and so are you!
8. Wanna Tack?
7. What the heck are you talking about, Tiffany?
6. He hates me I tell you, he hates me!
5. Can I please see the proofs now? (always followed by "no!")
4. Don't touch that button! You'll blow up the computer!
3. What do you mean you don't do takeout on chicken pot pies?!?
2. Go jiggle the wire!
1. Well, if we want it done right, shouldn't we ask Mr. Paone?

Our Many Memories

"What do you want to do today?"

"Finish the Yearbook!"

And that is just what we have done. During the past six months that we have been putting this book together, we've made this exchange of words hundreds of times, and they have finally come true. Along the way, Tiffany, Mr. Siddiqui and I (Kim) have created many lasting memories and ingenious inventions that served us well at midnight on Fridays, and this page is our way of remembering them. None of us will ever forget the blind ambition that drove us to invent useful tools such as the Yearbook Bins, the Big Red Book of Yearbook, the Big Calendar of Yearbook, the still nonexistent Bulletin Board of Yearbook, and student photographers. Let's just say that not every invention lasts a lifetime! Of course, we are most proud of an idea that was thrown into the air during 3rd period one day, and by 7th had developed into the Torch Awards. We cannot express properly our appreciation for the seven days of sleep and the three days of food that Mr. Siddiqui gave up to make the night a success for us and the rest of the school. We will never forget the backstage chaos and onstage calmness we were lucky to be a part of.

On a day to day basis, things were no less hectic than during the afternoon before those Torch Awards. From the beginning of the transition from what we fondly call the Paonian Dynasty to the Siddiqui Empire, there were times when we all put our noses to the grindstone and got things done, and then there were times when we just weren't quite as...focused shall we say? The day that Tiffany lets Mr. Siddiqui and I live down the Highlighter Wars of the first meeting, or my continual tendency to fall off of my favorite red stool will be the day that the yearbook ceases to exist! Who could forget the countless restaurants and photo processing centers our staff made rich, or the continuing struggle of Mr. Siddiqui and I to translate Tiffany's personal language and determine the true pronounciation of her favorite band's name. Over what looking back seems to be a very short trip, there were times when laughter was all around and times when tensions and tempers ran rampant, but overall, the three of us made a fantastic team.

As the Editors, Tiffany and I would also like to acknowledge the efforts of all who helped us in our journey. To our writers, photographers, staff and anyone else who made our jobs a little easier and a lot more interesting, we extend a sincere thank you. We would also like to bid a fond farewell to Tiffany. The team wouldn't have been complete without you. You'll be taking over the yearbook at Clark University in no time! Always remember that "I'm so happy to see you!" will be our sincere welcome anytime you decide to visit us. To Mr. Siddiqui: Tiffany and I will always remember that first week when we were actually responsible for teaching you all that we knew about the making of a yearbook. It seems like the Dark Ages compared to now! We thank you for the countless hours you put into perfecting the book for the whole school, and for all that you have taught us. We are well aware that without all you have done for us, there would be no yearbook! As for me, I have enjoyed the entire experience immensely and will carry all that I have learned, and all of the memories the team has created, with me as I begin the process again; this time on the yearbook of my own Senior year. Until then, we hope that you all enjoy what we have done with this year's Torch. See you next year!

Kim Allison and Tiffany Joslyn
